To: Commissioners of the Ethics Commission

As Concerned Citizens, we respectfully request resolution under Agenda #4, regarding postage stamps. Our suggestion is to take the stamps and receipt back to the person who sold the stamps to the candidate. If the USPS refuses to return the stamps, then request to talk to a supervisor. Another suggestion is for the Ethics Commission purchase the stamps for their mailings. If those suggestions aren't acceptable, then maybe the commissioners could purchase the stamps, especially since three of the commissioners are lawyers, who could possibly use the stamps, for their law firms.

It is commendable that the candidate has returned postage stamp sales of $968.00. We believe that using this issue as an enforcement and penalty issue is not a good use of the ethics commissions time and resources. The fact is that the stamps are equal to the price paid for them. It is not like used equipment, that is devalued.

Thank you for your consideration in this matter.

Concerned Citizens,
Joseph Greenier
