Principal fisheries: Brook trout

Pinnacle Pond is located northwest of the village of Kingfield. It has no inlet or outlet. The pond's shoreline is steep and undeveloped.

Water quality in Pinnacle Pond is marginal for coldwater gamefish. The cooler water below ten feet is deficient in dissolved oxygen during the warm summer months. However, a brook trout fishery is supported through annual stockings. Trout growth is poor with competition from hornpout and sunfish.

Pinnacle Pond is accessible from a side road off the West Kingfield Road. The pond is restricted to persons less than 16 years of age in the summer and closed to icefishing. The use of live fish as bait is prohibited. See the lawbook for additional regulations.
