STATEMENT BY FIRM Baker | Wohl Architects provides the full range of architectural services, including existing conditions assessments, master planning and feasibility studies, architectural design, preparation of construction documents, construction administration, project management, accessibility compliance, and comprehensive needs assessments. BWA is a member of the US Green Building Council and has experience helping clients achieve LEED certification for building projects. Whether LEED certification is desired or not, we endeavor to design buildings that are durable, efficient, adaptable and easy to operate and maintain. BWA's commitment to sustainability is founded on deep concern for resource efficiency, a healthy environment, disciplined analysis of a project's unique challenges and opportunities, and thoughtful application of building science and best practices performance.
