Subject: Keep Maine's Air Clean!

Dear Jeffrey Crawford,

I have worked with young children for over 30 years and have seen the devastating effects of asthma on children's lives. It seems there are more and more children with asthma in Maine, more and more trips to the emergency room. These children are restricted in their activities for extended periods of time because it can be dangerous for them. We adults are responsible for making our air as clean and wholesome as possible. We should not be cutting back on air quality control. It will harm children and cost the state more money in the end.

Sincerely,
Jacqueline Peters
