Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

I'm writing to request that DEP deny CMP's permit to build the corridor because of the negative impact the corridor would have on Maine's environment and economy.

CMP has not shown the ability to manage a project like this, and our environment is too precious to put it in the hands of an incompetent foreign corporation with such an abysmal track record.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

The future well-being of our state rests on what we do today. The corridor would be an ill-advised and irreversible mistake. We must shepherd our resources wisely.

That's why I'm writing to request that DEP deny CMP's permit to build the corridor, because of the negative impact the corridor would have on Maine's environment and economy.

Maine would only benefit by some money. Money can not replace the natural beauty of this area CMP wants to destroy. Money can not replace the mature forests here. Money does not make this renewable or green energy. Maine gets none of this money, only the environmental devastation. The money made by this slaughter leaves Maine, leaves the US and benefits A large corporation in Spain.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

I'm writing to request that DEP deny CMP's permit to build the corridor because of the negative impact the corridor would have on Maine's environment and economy.

CMP has not shown the ability to manage a project like this, and our environment is too precious to put it in the hands of an incompetent foreign corporation with such an abysmal track record.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

I demand the DEP does it's job, and denies the CMP's permit to build the corridor.

The negative impact the corridor would have on Maine's environment over rides the economy of a corporation by far.

Time and Time again putting the economy ahead of the Environment and the well being of individuals has caused and is still causing devastating effects.

Do your job - You are the DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECT,

You are NOT the DEPARTMENT OF CORPORATE PROTECTION.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

I'm writing to request that DEP deny CMP's permit to build the corridor because of the negative impact the corridor would have on Maine's environment and economy. The thousands of trees that are slated to be cut down clean our air, provide us with oxygen, offer habitats to our wildlife, and recreation to both Maine people and out of state tourists, all in "keeping it green".

CMP has not shown the ability to manage a project like this, and our environment is too precious to put it in the hands of an incompetent foreign corporation with such an abysmal track record. Please listen to the Maine people and at the very least provide studies comparing what the trees provide at this time compared to destroying them for what they call "clean energy" although they will be destroying more land in Canada to complete this project.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

I'm writing to request that DEP deny CMP's permit to build the corridor because of the negative impact the corridor would have on Maine's environment and economy.

CMP has not shown the ability to manage a project like this, and our environment is too precious to put it in the hands of an incompetent foreign corporation with such an abysmal track record.

The people of maine do not trust cmp. They are crooks and the state should force the sale of the utility to the state. Stop pushing the climate change hoax you know it is wrong and will hurt people and the economy while making the rich richer.

Please do what is right.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

I'm writing to request that DEP deny CMP's permit to build the corridor.

I believe I have had time to seriously consider the many concerns around this corridor and I consider it absolutely a harm to the state -- environmentally and economically.

We do not have to accept this. It should be discontinued.

The electricity will all go to Mass. There is no benefit to Maine other than the bribe package negotiated by the Governor. CMP should not be able to buy this permit.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

Something this large that impacts so many acres should definitely be put to the people of Maine to decide.

DEP must deny CMP's permit to build the corridor because of the negative impact the corridor would have on Maine's environment and economy.

With CMP's recent abysmal track record of late, and their inability to take responsibility for some really outrageous decisions, it screams NOT A GOOD THING!

Let the people decide, please!

As a family who enjoys the outdoors, and whose family business relies on the environment, I believe to approve this corridor would be detrimental. It will hurt the environment, damage the Maine economy, and will not support Maine people.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

I'm writing to request that DEP deny CMP's permit to build the corridor because of the negative impact the corridor would have on Maine's environment and economy. Every stream will be altered, all the fish and invertebrates destroyed, all the birds will lose their homes. This is wilderness. Please do not give the permit to CMP to build this horrible corridor through our vast Maine wilderness. It is a sacrosanct area, an integral part of western Maine. Once roads have been cleared through the woods, truck after truck of gravel hauled in and graded to a level surface, poles put in, wires strung, CMP will have stressed the environment so much it will never recover.

CMP has not shown the ability to manage a project like this, and our environment is too precious to put it in the hands of an incompetent foreign corporation with such an abysmal track record.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

I'm writing to request that DEP deny CMP's permit to build the corridor because of the negative impact the corridor would have on Maine's environment and economy.

CMP has not shown the ability to manage a project like this, and our environment is too precious to put it in the hands of an incompetent foreign corporation with such an abysmal track record.

Regardless of the precautions they make take, because this clear cut will traverse over 200 brooks, streams and rivers, thousands of our precious brook trout will be killed. And because they are dead, they will not procreate, therefore preventing the birth of tends of thousand more. They will say their precautions are "state-of-the-art". And they may be. But they will fair. And when they do, we will also hear the phrase "Due to unforeseen circumstances....."

In addition, they speak of the tons of effluent their clear cut will remove from the air. What they do not take into account, however, is the tons of effluent that would have been removed by the trees they clear cut.

CMP has not shown the ability to manage a project like this, and our environment is too precious to put it in the hands of an incompetent foreign corporation with such an abysmal track record.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

I'm writing as a concerned citizen to request that DEP deny CMP's permit to build the corridor through our state of Maine. This proposed destructive corridor will have an extremely negative impact on Maine's environment and economy.

CMP has not shown the ability to manage a project like this, and our environment is too precious to put it in the hands of an incompetent foreign corporation with such an abysmal track record. Maine is currently working hard to develop our rural and wilderness assets in hopes of building financial stability for all Maine citizens. This corridor would harm Maine people in exponential ways due to the devastation it would cause to our most valuable assets. Furthermore, the corridor would yield no real benefit to Maine people to compensate for the harm it caused because the power it carries does not go to Maine or lower our rates.

Don't allow this project to go forward. It will be a great blow to Maine's ability to thrive. There are alternative plans that would cause far less damage and devastation to a state's livelihood and viability.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

The law says that trees cannot be cut within 75 ft or 100 feet of waterways. This applies state wide lakes ponds rivers streams, as a logger I'm only allowed to cut 40% every 10 years within 75 feet of any stream, but Cmp can permanently clear 2000 acres of trees right up to the rivers edge? Somebody's getting paid off big time.

Look at the excessively high rates CMP is currently charging. Do you think they would hesitate for a moment to raise the rates of Mainers to build and maintain this corridor that only runs through our precious lands, and doesn't return any power benefits to the citizens of our state? They will not hesitate. They've done it before and they will do it again. This is not an investment in Maine. It is a land and — pardon the pun— power grab by a company that has proven it cares nothing for Maine or Mainers!

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

I'm writing to request that DEP deny CMP's permit to build the corridor because of the negative impact the corridor would have on Maine's environment and economics from deforestation and the chemicals related to keeping brush clear from the power lines. Simply put our natural resources are far too precious to be squandered for no benefit to the people of Maine.

Additionally CMP has not demonstrated the ability to properly manage an infrastructure project of this magnitude, and our environment is too precious to put it in the hands of an incompetent and greedy foreign corporation with such an abysmal track record.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

I'm writing to request that DEP deny CMP's permit to build the corridor because of the negative impact the corridor would have on Maine's environment and economy.

CMP has not shown the ability to manage a project like this, and our environment is too precious to put it in the hands of an incompetent foreign corporation with such an abysmal track record.

I have written to the department already but would like to address Mr. Meyer directly. The area through which CMP's corridor would run is a true Maine gem. I have traveled to this area for the past several decades mainly to flyfish. The native trout which inhabit the streams, rivers, and ponds are a treasure. They need clean cold water in which to reproduce and live. This project will jeopardize the trout population of the area which, by the way, attracts people from all over New England. Maine's wintering deer populations need full and intact areas of dark growth in order to survive both the winters and the predators. CMP's corridor will fracture many deer yards. CMP knows nothing of the wildlife of this area. Several people who know the area and the species of the area have spoken on the detriment the corridor will have on wildlife.

Needless to say, the trout and deer generate a great deal of income for the state in the form of visiting hunters and people who fish. I myself have spent a lot of money in the area and at places along my travel route to and from the corridor area.

From both environmental and fiscal standpoints, Maine has a lot to lose if the corridor is approved.

Please vote no on this project.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

I'm writing to request that:

DEP extend its comment period by 30 days so more Mainers have time to weigh in, given the current public health crisis. DEP deny CMP's permit to build the corridor because of the negative impact the corridor would have on Maine's environment and economy.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

I'm writing to request that:

DEP extend its comment period by 30 days so more Mainers have time to weigh in, given the current public health crisis. DEP deny CMP's permit to build the corridor because of the negative impact the corridor would have on Maine's environment and economy. I contacted the project with a couple questions, and they never answered me. I asked why this project couldn't be buried underground to prevent the scarring of the forest. I asked if this power line was to enable windturbines to proliferate all across the Maine landscape. I asked if the Native Canadians were abused and ignored in Canada when this was being pushed thru. They never bothered to answer, With the big cost of replacing powerlines when ice storms hit, It would seem cost effective to bury the lines. I think this project is needing further study for the several reasons I mentioned and it should not be rushed. There is the excuse that scarring the woods is OK when the logging companies do it, except they do let the trees regrow, and the power lines are sprayed to prevent regrowth with an agent orange type of chemical. This is bad for everything. Just say NO. Thank you.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

I'm writing to request that:

DEP extend its comment period by 30 days so more Mainers have time to weigh in, given the current public health crisis. DEP deny CMP's permit to build the corridor because of the negative impact the corridor would have on Maine's environment and economy.

Okay, thanks. Maybe let Jerry know that some of the individual commenters are also asking for extra time, an extra 30 days.

I was thinking maybe 10.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

I'm writing to request that:

DEP extend its comment period by 30 days so more Mainers have time to weigh in, given the current public health crisis. DEP deny CMP's permit to build the corridor because of the negative impact the corridor would have on Maine's environment and economy.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

Good day Sir,

I am writing to request that the DEP adjust to the reality we are facing at this time. So many things are being postponed or have deadlines that have been delayed in both State and Federal government. With all media coverage being focused on the health crisis with Covid 19 there is little air time or copy space to bring attention to other important issues. This blunts the important discussion and action related to the NECEC.

Please extend the DEP comment period by 30 days so more Mainers have time to weigh in. Given the current public health crisis communication is so distorted about what is happening in our state.

Please show respect for the clear voice of the people of the state of Maine. Please deny CMP's permit to build the corridor until the voice of the people is heard. So many Mainers see the negative impact the corridor would have on Maine's environment and culture. The "benefits" do not outweigh the negative impacts.

With utmost respect, Leslie McAllister

DEP deny CMP's permit to build the corridor because of the negative impact the corridor would have on Maine's environment and economy. I've received several mailings from the proponents that are literally ridiculous saying to vote for it to save lobsters and blueberry pie for example.

I graduated first in my class at Bowdoin and was one of two candidates from Maine for a Rhodes Scholarship. I'm a native Californian and believe that Maine's number one asset is her wilderness and natural beauty. Diminishing that for a corridor would be beyond silly. Go check out the corridor that comes off Maine Yankee to see for yourself how awful it would be.

Please don't approve a corridor.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

I'm writing to request that:

DEP extend its comment period by 30 days so more Mainers have time to weigh in, given the current public health crisis. I am also writing to urge a full EIS (environmental impact statement) be a condition of the DEP permitting process. An EA (environmental assessment) will only examine short term primary environmental impacts whereas an EIS will evaluate long term and secondary impacts. Maine's world renowned unique and sensitive habitats deserve no less.

Please do not deny Mainers time to voice their steadfast and very valid concerns that the NECEC project is bad for Maine and bad for the environment! There are other viable, less destructive options that need to be explored. So many of us have worked so hard to be heard! Please hear us!

Under no circumstances should the DEP move forward with this proposal during this time of medical emergency. We are all experiencing economic hardship which it is pretty clear CMP is not given the amount of money they are spending on advertising that keeps arriving in my mailbox.

This is an offshore held company that is trying to pull one over on the state of Maine, Wake up! once this goes thru there is no turning back.

Let the state of Maine and a Maine company bring this new energy source in , and the whole state will benefit with lower electric bills.

DEP extend its comment period by 30 days so more Mainers have time to weigh in, given the current public health crisis. DEP deny CMP's permit to build the corridor because of the negative impact the corridor would have on Maine's environment and economy.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

I'm writing to ask the DEP to extend the period for comment for 30 days. During this time of upset for all our basic institutions and our economy, people need more latitude to weigh in on the NECEC.

I am vehemently opposed to this project. To favor it is only to line the pockets of a foreign corporation and ignore the will of Mainers. This project is marked by false statements, heavy lobbying of the legislature and actions to block the people's voices. Central Maine Power is a disgraced utility. Why would anyone trust them to cut through miles of pristine Maine woodlands?? They will destroy habitat, foul streams, and endanger native species - all for the profit of Hydro Quebec and Massachusetts.

We, the people of Maine, will work to the end to block this ill advised project. It's time to take back 'the power' from a dishonest corporation that has caused much hardship for its customers and STOP THE NECEC.

As I sit in my living room with family waiting for the power company to return for the second time this week to repair my line, it seems ironic that I'm now writing to ask you to consider denying The CMP corridor.

A company who has such a historic history of poor/ lack of maintenance. A known interest in profitability over safety and care for it's customers. Why would you consider entrusting them to the largest woodland forest in the region?

The cost to the environment based on their promise to protect it? A single fire in a remote area with little to no response available. The animals, fish, and fauna at risk in our remote ponds?

Why would we risk any of this?

There is an approved corridor in Vermont that has had a proper environmental impact study (unlike the one blocked by their PACs here).

Are we not worth the same considerations?

Are we just cheap access to the extension cord to Massachusetts?

Please reconsider the impact this project has on a beautiful area, along with those who call this home. Making their living showing off this beauty to others who aren't as lucky to have such a majestic back yard.

Hopefully your generators are full and you will be able to read these at home which have all become our offices and schools with questionable (yet again) power.

dear folks, i am writing to you to urge you to deny cmp's proposed corridor. this project has created a lot of energy, emotions and a real awakening to the impact this project could bring to maine, if it goes to fruition.

i have spent quite a bit of time in the area, boundary mountains. my great grandfather, henry redmond, was a game warden, guide and trapper in this area. his trap line ran from caratunk, through enchanted pond area, spencer lake, ending up near holeb. this was back in the 1900-1940's. i've been following his travels, through accounts in his diaries. some things have changed, some things haven't, from those days.

firstly, my concern is the impact this project will have on the environment, the damage to lakes, ponds, and streams from silting and herbicide useage to keep undergrowth down, harming the native brook trout population, and other fishes and wildlife that depend on clean water. i've camped at rock pond, twice have seen pairs of golden eagles flying overhead. also the disruption of animal mini migrations in the area.

secondly, once this area is opened up to one project, it's easier to tag on, down the road, another one, say a gas line, or an east-west highway. we don't know what avangrid/iberdrola has in mind for the future, but none of it will benefit maine, just their stock holders.

the majority of the people of maine do not want this corridor ruining a relatively untouched part of maine. and since the federal government has done away with enforcing e.p.a. rules, a great burden has fallen to your shoulders, to protect the health and beauty of maine and its people.

thank you for your consideration,

I write in opposition to the ill conceived CMP corridor project. I believe the North American Megadam Resistance Alliance website says it all about why this is a flawed project. If you haven't visited NECEC's website I urge you to do so there you will learn how terrible this project is for Maine. Thank you , Jonathan

The proposed CMP powerline bringing electricity to Massachusetts is a bad deal for Maine and a bad deal for the environment. CMP is currently spinning this plan as an antidote to climate change. Not true! It says it will create jobs for Mainers. Not true.

What is true is that the corridor will permanently destroy undeveloped forest and habitat all the while enriching its owners who live in Spain!

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

I'm writing to request that DEP deny CMP's permit to build the New England Clean Energy Connect Corridor.

I have spent a lifetime of adventures in this region of Maine. I am not alone. Maines motto "Dirigo" applies here. DEP should "lead" by denying CMP's permit. There are renewable uses of these woodlands that have gone on for generations. This power corridor is not renewable. It puts a permanent scar on some beautiful territory. A scar the western mountains of Maine can't afford. Defoliant use in the last stronghold of native brook trout is a fools game. These natural resources should be jealously guarded by the state for FUTURE generations. Not parceled off to foreign corporations for personal profit.

There is a better way. A way that benefits the State of Maine. A way that protects these irreplaceable natural resources. But not this way, by this company. It's a bad deal for the great State of Maine. There is a reason this project has been rejected by other states. The impacts are too great and the benefit too small. To paraphrase Ted Williams "Any fool can build a powerline, but only God can create mountain ponds and streams, quiet forrest and unfettered views" This is what brings tourists to the state. It's beautiful resources. Just ask Massachusetts to put this corridor through their Berkshire mountains. I think I know what their response would be.

Now is not the time to be investing in fossil fuel. Renewable energy is not only feasible but necessary in order to create sustainability in our economy and begin to undo some of the damage to our environment.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

Plrsse do not grant CMP permission to build a corridor for its transmission lines. This will harm Maine and only benefit this foreign company. It will not help the people of Maine. It will cause ecological damage and scar the pristine lands through which it travels. These lands are what Maine is about and what people come here for. It would be a travesty to let this project go forward.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

I request that the Maine Department of Environmental Protection deny CMP a permit to build the proposed energy corridor. Issuance of the permit to CMP will harm Maine's economy, and be detrimental to the environment and the citizens health. Polls have shown that a majority of Maine's citizens oppose the corridor, and for good reason.

CMP is obviously administratively incompetent with the tasks it has already applied for and been permitted by the State of Maine. The Maine Public Utilities Commission has in their decision essentially agreed with this. How can an incompetent organization that can not administrate billing, usage, taxes, and provides dangerously slow repairs, be allowed the responsibility to build and maintain a billion dollar infrastructure project? The Public Utilities Commission and Barry Hobbins, the states top public advocate, have essentially agreed with this. Instead of assuming further administrative responsibilities that it is incapable of meeting, CMP should focus on consistently providing reliable electricity without the billing games it has consistently employed.

Allowing construction of the corridor by CMP places the Maine taxpayer at great future liability. Construction is one issue, but the greater concern is CMP's ability to maintain over the years a safe and efficient manner for this billion dollar infrastructure project. Maine will be left to pay and remediate CMP's errors. It is structured so that the organization and its multinational investors will garner any profit, but leave the liability to the tax payers of Maine.

There is no prohibition what so ever to prevent CMP to use its extensive right away to add pipelines for chemical or petroleum, such as natural gas. Although this is a good ROI (return on investment) for its stockholders, it places the communities and population that the proposed corridor runs through at great risk. The transmission lines should be buried under ground. However, CMP has refused in order to protect their foreign investors, not Maine's citizens. That is a major reason why other states rejected the proposed corridor.

This issue should be decided by a voter's referendum. But CMP is vehemently opposed to that because they know that the citizens of Maine want to protect their economy, natural environment and health.

Please deny CMP a permit.

Thank you.

Bruce D Taylor Sweden

Bruce Taylor

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

I'm writing to request that DEP deny CMP's permit to build the corridor because of the negative impact the corridor would have on Maine's environment and economy. Simply put, do the right thing

CMP has not shown the ability to manage a project like this, and our environment is too precious to put it in the hands of an incompetent foreign corporation with such an abysmal track record.

Power lines should not be allowed to run thru the Maine Woods. Just because the timber companies have had carte blanche to destroy the forests does not automatically mean the power companies should have the right to also run rampant thru the woods. It is time for Maine to tighten up the regs., otherwise we will have wind turbines sprawling from Lewiston to Madawaska all thru the Maine Woods.

Why do the power companies want lines hung up high? The power outages are expensive and they are difficult to repair and get power back. With the lines buried maintenance should be less. That might mean our rates would go down, I guess the companies would not want any reductions in their profit. They want to keep gouging their customers.

The power is mainly going to Mass., so they can keep wasting energy with their huge luxury homes. Maine should charge for every electron which goes across state lines.

Just say No to the corridor.

Thank you.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

CMP has not shown the ability to manage a project like this, and our environment is too precious to put it in the hands of an incompetent foreign corporation with such an abysmal track record. CMP has proven they are not a trusted company and the Maine people understand that the electricity that this would generate will not go to Mainers and will only provide power to Massachusetts and Connecticut. The job opportunities this will provide will be on a very short term basis. As soon as the corridor is completed, most of those people will be again, out of a job.

The corridor will only destroy the Maine wilderness and will impact negatively on our precious wildlife and the beauty of our state.

I believe the Maine people should have a voice in this decision and should be allowed to vote on it in the upcoming election or hold a special election to determine if the corridor should be built!! Please let Mainers have a voice!!

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

I write to urge the DEP to emphasize the E in its name: to protect and to sustain Maine's environment from the depredations of CMP's proposed corridor. The economic impact of the corridor, which, in the long run, will not substantially benefit Maine, will deepen the already dire forecasts for the State as we endure this pandemic.

Please do not approve CMP's permit to build the corridor. Citizens of the State as well as visitors and the many generations to follow us will, rightly, share in the advantages of your denying the permit. CMP has not proven itself a reliable or responsible entity: to entrust our precious resources and our future to them would be an awful abdication of the the DEP's mandate.

Thank you for your work. Maine depends on you to make the right decision to deny the permit.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

I'm writing to request that DEP deny CMP's permit to build the corridor because of the negative impact the corridor would have on Maine's environment and economy.

CMP has not shown the ability to manage a project like this, and our environment is too precious to put it in the hands of an incompetent foreign corporation with such an abysmal track record.

They have a terrible customer relations and why are we allowing a foreign owned company permission to destroy our land, Why do the states allow foreign companies to own our natural resources? Give them a building and show them the door.

You are probably aware that we have been bombarded with a glitzy advertising drive making pie in the sky promises and telling downright lies as to the benefits of the CMP corridor. This is another example how far the company will go to to achieve their goal. Mainers are better served to say NO to this enterprise.

Further, this goes against the very heritage, values and beauty of Maine and it's people. Not only will this not benefit Mainers, who are already struggling to pay nearly doubled monthly power bills; it will destroy the land and ecosystem of this pristine forest. In essence, we lose twice on this corridor, and as a Maine native, mother and veteran...I implore you to deny the permit for the CMP corridor.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

I'm writing to request that DEP deny CMP's permit to build the corridor because of the negative impact the corridor would have on Maine's environment and economy.

What makes Maine beautiful and unique is its natural, untouched beauty. If you have ever found yourself in the middle of the woods, so quiet you can hear every leaf fall, or gazing out over a rocky shore, mesmerized by the vast uninterrupted blue water, you understand how magical and our home truly is.

We are lucky to live in a place surrounded by trees and wildlife, and I fear that this corridor will disrupt the precious ecosystems here. There is a reason Vermont and New Hampshire have turned this deal down. It is a bad one for all living things that call this wonderful place home.

Please help keep Maine the way it is, not just for us, but for future generations of locals and tourists. We cannot come back from this. Once the damage is done, it is done.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

I'm writing to request that DEP deny CMP's permit to build the corridor because of the negative impact the corridor would have on Maine's environment and economy.

CMP has not shown the ability to manage a project like this, and our environment is too precious to put it in the hands of an incompetent foreign corporation with such an abysmal track record.

Maine is a destination for recreation, for solace and for hunting, fishing and hiking - all of which contribute to our economy. I want to protect the forest from the negative impact that the corridor will have on habitats and will negatively effect climate and air quality that forests provide.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

I'm writing to request that DEP deny CMP's permit to build the corridor because of the negative impact the corridor would have on Maine's environment and economy.

FACT: Central Maine Power (CMP) will create a corridor through pristine Maine forest that's as wide as the New Jersey Turnpike, crossing the Kennebec River Gorge, the Appalachian Trail, 263 wetlands, 115 streams, 12 inland waterfowl and wading bird habitat areas - as well as brook trout streams and deer wintering yards.

FACT: Central Maine Power's project includes much less assistance for Maine than similar proposals in New Hampshire and Vermont, which include hundreds of millions of dollars in economic development assistance and environmental mitigation.

FACT: CMP will use proceeds from the NECEC corridor to fund assistance for low-income residents -- of MASSACHUSETTS. No similar program for Maine residents has been proposed.

FACT: CMP has a troubled history. They are currently under investigation for overbilling thousands of Maine customers, as well as for their dismal response to a massive power outage last winter that left hundreds of thousands of Mainers without power. The company's CEO publicly apologized for their mistakes in a television ad campaign currently running on Maine television.

FACT: CMP is currently being sued for fraud. According to the suit, CMP purposefully deceived customers about the reasons for massive spikes in their electric bills.

The Bangor Daily News is reporting the Massachusetts Attorney General has cast doubt on the claims that CMP's corridor will reduce greenhouse gas emissions.

CMP will provide $50 million over 40 years to several programs and initiatives in Massachusetts, as a condition of winning the bid to build a high-voltage transmission line from Quebec through Maine that will carry hydroelectricity to the Commonwealth.

CMP has not shown the ability to manage a project like this, and our environment is too precious to put it in the hands of an incompetent foreign corporation with such an abysmal track record.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

I'm writing to request that DEP deny CMP's permit to build the corridor because of the negative impact the corridor would have on Maine's environment and economy.

CMP has not shown the ability to manage a project like this, and our environment is too precious to put it in the hands of an incompetent foreign corporation with such an abysmal track record.

The real purpose is to bring hydro power to Massachusetts at the expense of Maine's environment. It benefits Quebec Hydro and CMP, a Spanish held company!!! You need to look out for Maine, not Canada, Spain, or Massachusetts .

Clean Energy connect is a scam for Maine, DO YOUR JOB AND PROTECT MAINE!!!!

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

The project will be a blight on the pristine natural lands of the North Woods that so many revere, and would significantly affect recreation and wildlife.

Furthermore, the project will significantly detract from the construction of new in-state renewable energy projects and creation of clean energy jobs. My wife and I are under construction/reconstruction of our property and have invested heavily in both solar and geothermal technologies to rid ourselves of traditional grid-sourced power. THIS is the way our state should be heading, NOT further enabling current power technologies.

I implore you to deny CMP's permit.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

I'm writing to request that DEP deny CMP's permit to build the corridor because of the negative impact the corridor would have on Maine's environment and economy. We should be investing in our local economy by having, at the very least, a U.S. owned electric company. Many towns and 'Mainers' have already been outspoken about their opposition to this proposal.

CMP has not shown the ability to manage a project like this, and our environment is too precious to put it in the hands of an incompetent foreign corporation with such an abysmal track record. With so much at risk, it would be irresponsible to push this project forward. Please deny CMP's permit and protect the State of Maine and it's residents.

I'm writing to request that DEP deny CMP's permit to build the corridor because of the negative impact the corridor would have on Maine's environment and economy. I also do not appreciate the Canadian company's advertisements that clearly presume Mainer's will believe whatever we hear and not take the time to verify their statements.

CMP is a nightmare and currently not in any position to be given more responsibility, and our environment is too precious to put it in the hands of an incompetent foreign corporation with such an abysmal track record.

Also, why should Maine be the state that allows this type of destruction for the benefit of Massachusetts? If clean air is really the driving factor here, all of the New England states should start seriously producing their own clean energy on a much larger scale.

It seems like you could at a minimum, postpone any type of permitting, until after a vote on this topic by the citizens of Maine.

Dear Maine DEP Jim Beyer,

Power Lines: Major impacts to Native Woodlands

Let's be honest. This corridor is about big money and corporate profits.

But I will not argue against it, on their terms. I'll make my case against the corridor, as it relates to my specialty.

Power corridors dramatically impact native woodlands, permanently altering the association of plant species. Mechanical impacts from right-of-way clearing to native woodlands, create environments for the establishment and proliferation of non-native, invasive plant species. The resultant changes are inevitable and irreversible. Regardless of silvicultural tools used afterwards, once these native forests are severely impacted by large woodland operations, all attempts to reclaim them from invasive plant species fail. I have seen this proven over and over through the years, and there is no documentation to refute this.

The most destructive species to our native woodlands is the invasive vine, Asiatic (or Oriental) Bittersweet (ABS) (Celastrus orbiculatus). Already firmly established across America, ABS is becoming the scourge of our forests. I've personally watched ABS become well-established at least as far north as Newport, Maine. I am certain that ABS will eventually become established all the way into Canada.

The impacts from clearing for a power corridor, create ideal environments for the spread of ABS. Any impacted habitat is susceptible to being dominated by ABS. Maine DOT is aware of the nuisance that ABS has become along our freeways. Until we find a way to permanently stop this invasive species, it's imperative that we keep our remaining native woodlands, free from impacts.

We cherish our forests. Protecting what remains of them must be one of our highest priorities, higher than providing electricity to urban areas to the south.

The Biosphere (all of nature globally) is being attacked everywhere worldwide. Maine is not exempt. Gradually, one piece at a time, nature is being taken. This corridor represents the latest assault on Maine's shrinking wildlife habitat. We cannot allow it. We must hold the line!

Thank you for reading this.

Habitat and its management has been my greatest specialty in my 40+ years as a states and federal wildlife biologist, here in my native Maine and in Georgia and Florida's Everglades.

Robert King

My name is Rodney Porter. I live at 5 School Ln, New Sharon, ME. You've heard all the arguments and rejected most of them. I will just ask you for one thing.. Please ask yourself if you are doing your job of protecting Maine's environment in this case.if you approve the NECEC. The consequences could be monumental. Ecologically, biologically, and spiritually this project if completed would be a disaster. CMP is trying to ram this through before Maine citizens get A chance to vote, because they know it will be harder to stop by vote if they have started. Wishes of Maine citizens be damned.. I urge each of you to "stop, look around, here it comes, ..your" opportunity to do it right. (words in quotation are from song from Rolling Stones, 19th Nervous Breakdown. You might like to pause, sing the words "you better stop look around, here it comes....your wonderful opportunity to do it right"! Thank you. Rodney Porter

Dear Mr. Beyer and Commissioner Reid,

I am a Maine resident and CMP ratepayer, with a solar array that has produced 25 Megawatts of power since May 2012, a significant amount of it excess power put out into the CMP grid. I write to writing to register my objections to NECEC and to set forth the reasons I believe the DEP should not approve its construction. I submitted similar views to the Army Corps of Engineers.

First, this project will in effect shunt aside solar power potential in Maine perhaps indefinitely. The immense potential of solar power for our future needs is being ignored by public officials and regulators. One day's sun would power the entire energy needs of this nation for one year.

Maine has thousands and thousands of acres of former farm land that will never be used for farming and may be unsuitable for any other use than producing solar.

Solar is largely clean carbon free power and once battery or other storage technology is developed, the sky's the limit, pun intended. And the storage problem is only for solar producers off the grid. The City of South Portland is pursuing solar power for municipal purposes big time, as are other municipalities, businesses and homeowners, especially as electricity rates and energy costs increase.

Second, I've been involved over the last 54 years as legal counsel, mediator and arbitrator in the negotiation and resolution of many commercial, financing and construction deals and disputes involving sophisticated parties, including power co-generation deals involving biofuel and hydro. The offered $258M for Maine over 40 years breaks down to about $5 a year for each resident. So for a family of 4, that's $20 a year, even assuming the alleged benefits went directly to ratepayers. Residents routinely pay hundreds of dollars a year in CMP bills. Any payout should be over no more than 10 years. Money talks and it has to talk fast or else most deals make no sense.

This deal was a secret one and clearly not an arms-length one, which should give huge pause to regulators, ratepayers, affected landowners and the public.

If the residential ratepayers had been at the table as stakeholders with sophisticated representation, CMP and its special interests would have been laughed out of the room. So, yes indeed, let the ratepayers, the public and public interest groups have their say, because, with respect, their interests have not been well-represented by the Public Advocate, Barry Hobbins and his staff or by the Governor, strike that, then Gubernatorial candidate.

Any negotiation should also have taken into account the chances Hydro Quebec or CMP or a viable successor may not even be around in 40 years or even a much shorter period. If not, who is going to step up to the plate then? I predict no one. And I also predict this transmission line may well never be built, even if it gets needed approvals and overcomes the revolt of affected municipalities throwing up hurdles and the upcoming referendum vote, all of which which may require litigation by CMP and Hydro Quebec. By rights it should collapse by its own weight.

Third, No construction project in the history of the world has ever come in on budget. CMP can't even run a simple billing system. How are they going to manage, implement and finish this huge project on budget and on time, in the meantime in effect stymieing other renewable energy projects that could be moving forward?

Fourth, The Hydro Quebec-CMP 145-mile transmission line will eat up more than the estimated 945 acres. That would be about 6.5 acres per mile or about .0012 acres per foot, or about 52 square feet for each foot of transmission line, for a 50 foot wide transmission line.

Roughly 50 miles of the line would require clearing a 150-foot wide corridor. The rest of the line would run along an already established transmission corridor, but would need to be widened by another 75 to 85 feet. Rough math would therefore postulate an average of 100 feet plus wide for the transmission line or about 2 times the 945 acres estimated. That's about 2,000 acres, not even considering access roads and staging areas that may have to be created.

Fifth, all the interconnected special interests and their actions pushing this project should be looked into by the Press and regulatory authorities. Peter Mills, the Governor's brother, is also Executive Director of the Maine Turnpike Authority, a governmental agency. Is it appropriate for the Maine Turnpike Authority to be, in effect, supporting this project, one way or the other?

A principal of Western Maine Mountains & Rivers, formed to support the project, is Larry Warren, formerly CEO of the Sugarloaf Ski Area. He is a director of the Kleinschmidt Group, a consulting firm specializing in such areas as hydro engineering, marine renewables and related regulatory matters.

Wait a minute! Isn't hydro what Hydro Quebec does and the source of power for this misguided project? In return for all the money coming from CMP to Western Maine Mountains & Rivers, is that group, though supposedly a non-profit, lobbying for and advising Hydro Quebec and CMP on the transmission project, perhaps also opening the way for later hydro projects for Hydro Quebec, or a Maine subsidiary, in Maine?. This project, and the secretive deal for Governor Mills to support it (with a pittance for Maine people and small energy consumers) put together by candidate Mills, the Public Advocate and Tony Buxton, lawyer for the large Maine industrial energy users, smell worse every day.

Sixth, A major problem with the project is the environmental cost, including the extensive deforestation contemplated. Those who think that the deforestation going on in the world, only made worse by projects like the miles-long, clear cut for, and construction of, a CMP transmission line and all kinds of construction projects going on all over the world, does not accurately presage the extinction of mankind, sooner than we think, should read the new novel, "Overstory", in which trees and forests are the key protagonists, by Richard Powers. As he points out we're destroying the planet.

You'd think we could learn something from trees, which predate man by tens of millions of years. They clean the air and provide innumerable benefits to mankind, but they also need our help. Trees are disappearing at an alarming rate, including all kinds of forest die-back, all made worse by warming, and thousands of square miles a year converted to development, an annual net loss of one hundred billion trees. Half the wood species on the planet will be gone by the end of this century.

Powers believes trees have crucial things to tell us, and if we ignore their message, they will have the final say. So a key question is whether we're reached a point in history where mankind must cease dominating and exploiting nature, accept the fact that we're part of an interconnected ecosystem, and act accordingly. The alternative may well be a planetary catastrophe. So far, stark scientific data has not convinced individuals, businesses and their governments to take this choice seriously. I hope they do soon for my grandchildren's sake.

Seventh, CMP says they're going to carry out the project through a subsidiary. So now the corporate structure implicated by this project, including a just-announced merger involving PPL, a Pennsylvania company, may well be (though I may have some details wrong): Iberdrola to Avangrid to PPL to CMP to construction subsidiary. Wow, five layers! Certainly any investor or lender or contractor involved in this project should ask: how well capitalized will the subsidiary be. Will their be corporate and major shareholder personal guarantees the way any un-brain-damaged investor, lender, contractor or other principal would require in such a project? Will any entities damaged by the actions of the subsidiary unfortunately have only the recourse of that old equitable stand-by, piercing the corporate veil, available when a corporate actor who has committed an actionable wrongs not been adequately capitalized by the parent corporation or shareholders?

Thank you for considering my views.

Sincerely,
David Plimpton

To whom it may concern:

I am in complete agreement with the positions taken by those who oppose the proposed power transmission through Maine. The corridor won't reduce global greenhouse gas emissions or create sustainable jobs for Maine people and the power line will destroy and degrade many square miles of forest, waterbodies and other precious natural features.

My main objection, however, is that no-one has shown me how the State of Maine benefits from this project.

How many millions of dollars will go into the Maine Treasury every year and for how many years?

How many Maine towns, villages and homes will be electrified and heated?

I would approve of this project if Maine received 30% of the profits from the project or that the power from the project would supply 66% of the power needs of the State of Maine for the next 50 years.

Maine could use the money to convert to alternative energy sources.

Dear DEP regulators,

I'm sure you've heard more than you fill about the (perfectly valid) talking points from the people and organizations opposed to the corridor. I'm just going to offer a few personal observations. I would also think it appropriate to extend the comment period that is about to end, given the chaos that the SARS-CoV-2 pandemic is creating around us.

1. The ads

The TV ads being produced about the wonderful benefits for Maine's citizens from the corridor project are so flagrantly false (and CMP's record on veracity is so tenuous) that one has to wonder what else might be problematic in the submissions they've provided to you. Since when is clean energy going to come to Mainers through a thru-line from Canada to Massachusetts?

2. The greenhouse gas issue — part 1

Brian Hubbell, a legislator whose pragmatic clear thinking I have long respected, has said he supports the project because it will mean a net reduction in fossil fuel use by replacing some of Massachusetts' use of those fuels. However, it seems to me, and perhaps you've done this analysis, that if they weren't providing it to Massachusetts, they would certainly manage to provide it to someone else (whether NH, if they offered NH a way to avoid damaging environment and tourism that that state turned down the last time, or VT, with the proposed buried cable, or forget MA and sell to Canada). The net result on greenhouse gases would be the same, without doing damage in Maine.

3. The greenhouse gas issue - part 2

A couple of months ago, a COA professor who is an expert on the project gave a remarkably balanced talk here in Southwest Harbor on the various issues involved. He was asked about the greenhouse gas net balance. He said that hydro-power is not the clean slate it is assumed to be. When an area is flooded as a reservoir, not only is the carbon-absorbing capability of the vegetation lost for the duration of the generation usage, but the rotting of that vegetation under water produces methane, which is given off for a long time. How this plays out in the long run is not clear in this case, but I suspect you don't have data on it.

So I hope that common sense prevails, and this project is either rejected or sent back to the drawing boards.

Thank you.
