Hi All,

I speak for the trees and the forest who can't speak for themselves and for one of the 65% of all Maine people OPPOSED to the corridor in the recent poll taken by the Portland-based research firm Critical Insights who did speak for themselves. Please listen to my voice which is saying "No thank you to expansive electric power grids in our Maine Woods". Maine has one of the last remaining wildernesses on the planet and we can not afford to lose it. We can though afford to use other means of transmitting electric power! Listen to the 65% of the people in Maine and to the forest. Thanks, Mary
