Dear Maine Department of Environmental Protection,

I am against the NECEC Transmission Line for many reasons, The two I want to express here are that instead of so much focus being made on making electricity and moving it long distances, there should be more emphasis on not wasting electricity and all other sources of power. Also it just doesn't make sense to me to move energy long distances over vulnerable lines, where there is greater loss of that energy. We should be thinking of how to make as much energy as possible closer to home.

Sincerely,
Barbara Klie
