-Would CMP be spraying synthetic chemical herbicides under the 53 miles of power lines?
In my view this is unacceptable. They pollute the soil, the water, the animals and plants

Cutting 53 miles of trees that would be collecting carbon from the air is not a climate change solution.
Irrevocably changing the habitat for all who live there by fragmenting it....and also poisoning it ?

Putting solar panels on rooftops in Massachusetts would be a much better, long-term, climate friendly choice. Massachusetts can take responsibility and accountability for its energy future.
If decisions are based on money and the environment suffers even more who are we as decent human beings and what are we leaving to the next generations ?
