Re: Index of Materials/Request to Investigate Human Rights Campaign

On May 28, 2014, the Commission received the attached request for investigation from the National Organization for Marriage (NOM). NOM requests that the Maine Ethics Commission investigate whether Human Rights Campaign, Inc. (HRC) was required to register and file campaign finance reports as a ballot question committee with the Commission, due to HRC's financial activities opposing the 2009 same-sex marriage referendum.

The following materials are attached:

- memo from Commission staff dated August 14, 2014 containing the history of this item and our staff recommendation (19 pages),
- May 28, 2014 letter from NOM requesting the investigation (3 pages) and attachments (105 pages),
- letter from Commission staff notifying HRC of the request, dated June 23, 2014 (3 pages);
- first response from HRC, dated July 14, 2014 (6 pages),
- July 24, 2014 request by Commission staff for additional information (1 page),
- second response from HRC, dated August 6, 2016 (2 pages).

Thank you for your consideration of this item.

Re: Request to Investigate Human Rights Campaign

Procedural Background

On May 28, 2014, the Maine Commission on Governmental Ethics and Election Practices (the Commission) received the attached request for investigation from the National Organization for Marriage (NOM). NOM requests that the Maine Ethics Commission investigate whether Human Rights Campaign, Inc. (HRC) was required to register and file campaign finance reports as a ballot question committee with the Commission, due to HRC's financial activities opposing the 2009 people's veto referendum on same-sex marriage. In 2009, HRC formed a PAC, which did register and file reports. NOM is requesting an investigation into whether HRC, itself, was separately required to register and file campaign finance reports as a ballot question committee. The request was received by email from NOM's legal counsel during the hours following your May 28 decision to find NOM in violation.

HRC provided a preliminary response dated July 14, 2014 from its Deputy General Counsel Darrin Hurwitz, which urges the Commission to take no action on NOM's request (referred to below as the "HRC 7/14 Response").

The Commission staff requested more specific information concerning revenues from two fundraising emails and a matching gift from a major donor. On August 6, 2014, Mr. Hurwitz submitted a second response (the "HRC 8/6 Response").

Applicable Law

Commission's Standards for Requests for Investigation

Under 21-A M.R.S.A. § 1003(2), a person may apply to the Commission to investigate whether an organization has violated campaign finance law. Under this provision, the Commission "shall review the application and shall make the investigation if the reasons stated for the request show sufficient grounds for believing that a violation may have occurred." The law contains no statute of limitations.

Maine's Ballot Question Committee Statute

Some organizations that do not qualify as PACs are required to register and file reports as ballot question committees under 21-A M.R.S.A. § 1056-B. Ballot question committees are typically multipurpose organizations that are not organized for the purpose of influencing a Maine election. During the 2009 election season, the following version of § 1056-B was in effect:¹

§ 1056-B. Ballot question committees

Any person not defined as a political action committee who receives contributions or makes expenditures, other than by contribution to a political action committee, aggregating in excess of $5,000 for the purpose of initiating, promoting, defeating or influencing in any way a ballot question must file reports with the commission in accordance with this section. Within 7 days of receiving contributions or making expenditures that exceed $5,000, the person shall register with the commission as a ballot question committee. For the purposes of this section, expenditures include paid staff time spent for the purpose of influencing in any way a ballot question. The commission must prescribe forms for the registration, and the forms must include specification of a treasurer for the committee, any other principal officers and all individuals who are the primary fund-raisers and decision makers for the committee. In the case of a municipal election, the registration and reports must be filed with the clerk of that municipality.

1. Filing requirements. A report required by this section must be filed with the commission according to the reporting schedule in section 1059.

After completing all financial activity, the committee shall terminate its campaign finance reporting in the same manner provided in section 1061. The committee shall file each report required by this section through an electronic filing system developed by the commission unless granted a waiver under section 1059, subsection 5.

2. Content. A report must contain an itemized account of each expenditure made to and contribution received from a single source aggregating in excess of $100 in any election; the date of each contribution; the date and purpose of each expenditure; the name and address of each contributor, payee or creditor; and the occupation and principal place of business, if any, for any person who has made contributions exceeding $100 in the aggregate. The filer is required to report only those contributions made to the filer for the purpose of initiating, promoting, defeating or influencing in any way a ballot question and only those expenditures made for those purposes. The definitions of "contribution" and "expenditure" in section 1052, subsections 3 and 4, respectively, apply to persons required to file ballot question reports.

2.A. Contributions. For the purposes of this section, "contribution" includes, but is not limited to:

- A. Funds that the contributor specified were given in connection with a ballot question;
- B. Funds provided in response to a solicitation that would lead the contributor to believe that the funds would be used specifically for the purpose of initiating, promoting, defeating or influencing in any way a ballot question;
- C. Funds that can reasonably be determined to have been provided by the contributor for the purpose of initiating, promoting, defeating or influencing in any way a ballot question when viewed in the context of the contribution and the recipient's activities regarding a ballot question; and
- D. Funds or transfers from the general treasury of an organization filing a ballot question report.

3. Forms. A report required by this section must be on a form prescribed and prepared by the commission. A person filing this report may use additional pages if necessary, but the pages must be the same size as the pages of the form.

4. Records. A person filing a report required by this section shall keep records as required by this subsection for four years following the election to which the records pertain.

- A. The filer shall keep a detailed account of all contributions made to the filer for the purpose of initiating, promoting, defeating or influencing in any way a ballot question and all expenditures made for those purposes.
- B. The filer shall retain a vendor invoice or receipt stating the particular goods or services purchased for every expenditure in excess of $50.

Four-Year Record Retention Period

Subsection 4 of § 1056-B specifies certain records that ballot question committees must keep for four years. These include records of contributions made to the committee for purposes of promoting or defeating a ballot question, and expenditures made by the committee for that purpose. This record-keeping requirement ensures that, for a reasonable period of time, ballot question committees will retain the records most needed for an investigation by the Commission.

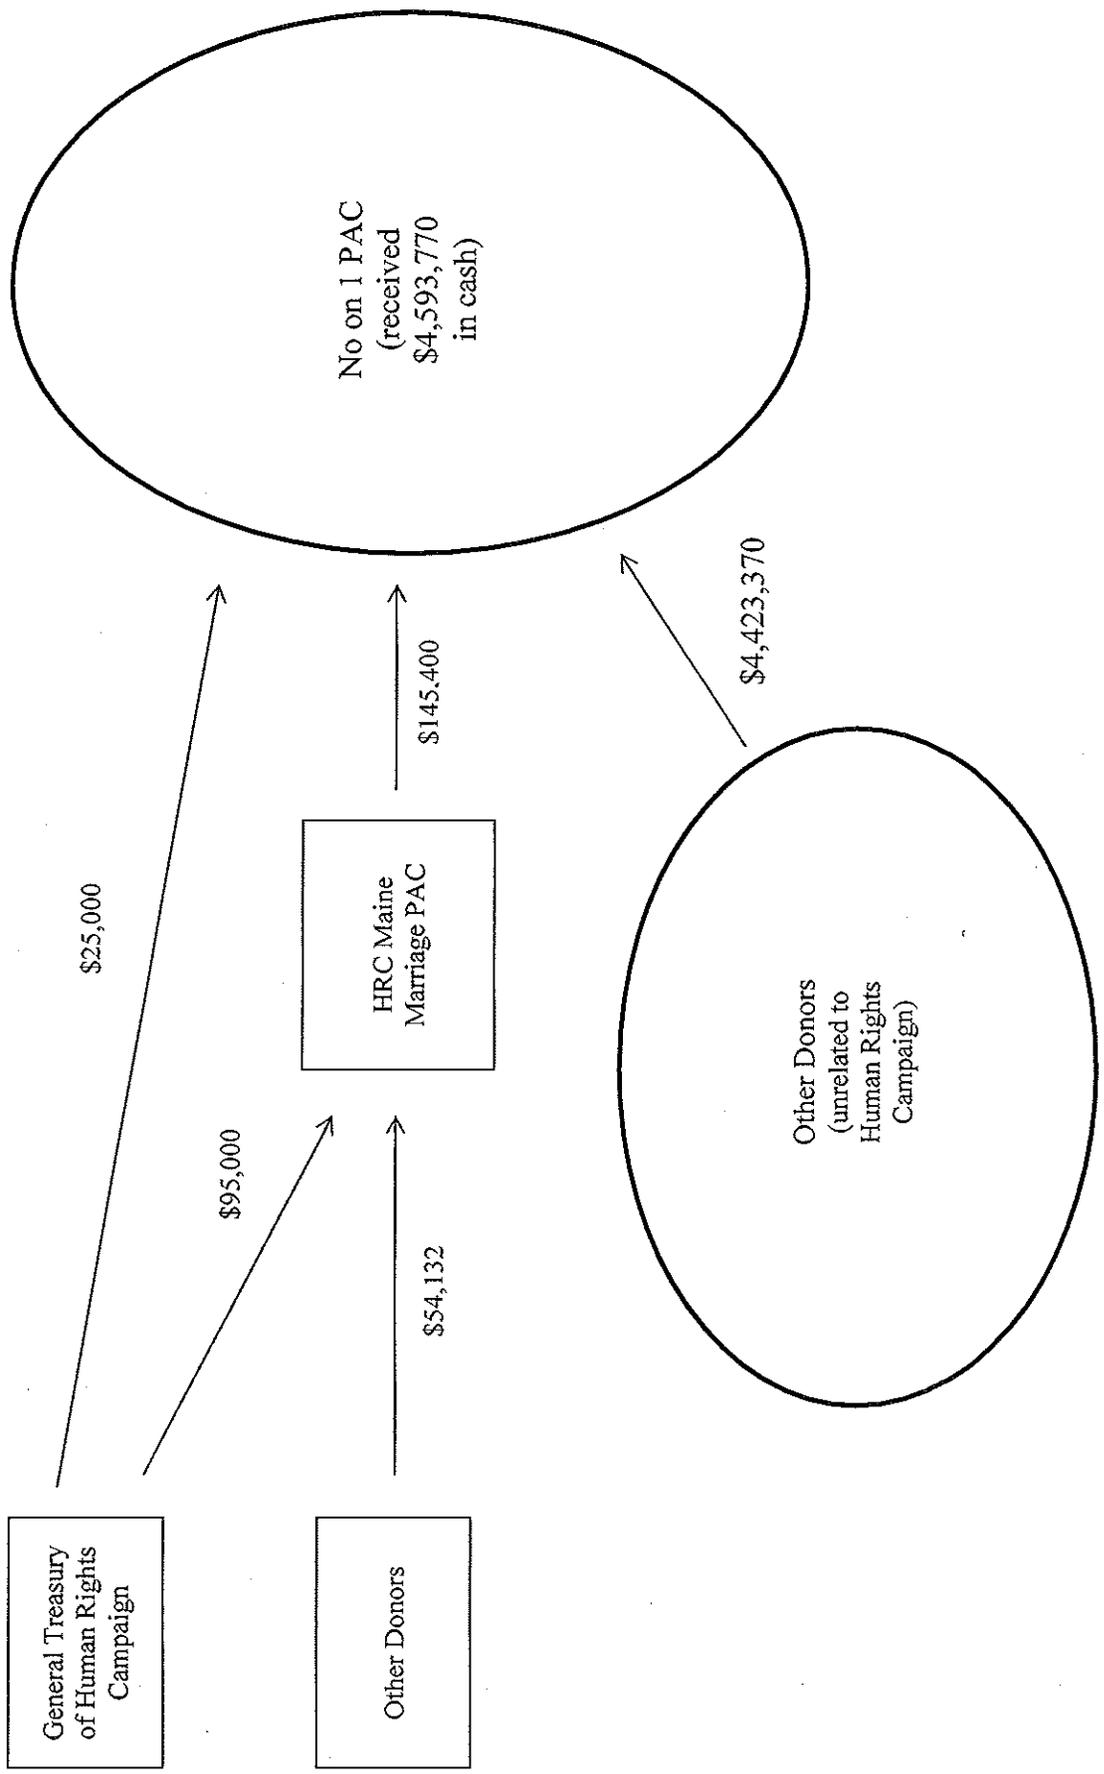

HRC's Financial Activity at Issue in this Matter

Overview. On May 28, 2009, supporters of same-sex marriage in Maine formed a PAC to oppose the 2009 marriage referendum with the name of No on 1 Protect Marriage Equality (referred to below as "No on 1"). In its registration form, No on 1 identified as two individuals from Maine as officers: Jesse Connolly and Patricia Peard. The PAC's filings do not contain any evidence that HRC personnel were principal decision-makers, fundraisers, or officers of the PAC.² No on 1 reported receiving cash contributions totaling $4,593,770 from many individuals and organizations.³ As explained below, No on 1 received cash donations from HRC and from a PAC that HRC had formed. This money from HRC and its PAC comprised a relatively small amount – 3.7% – of the total amount raised by No on 1 to oppose the referendum. (see diagram on next page)

² HRC specifically denies that it had any formal leadership role in the campaign against the referendum (HRC 7/14 Response, at 5).

³ Based on the campaign finance report No on 1 filed 42 days after the November 3, 2009 election.

Cash Donations Opposing 2009 Marriage Referendum

Specific Cash Contributions. On June 18, 2009, HRC made a cash contribution from its general treasury directly to No on 1:

#	Date	Amount
1	6/18/2009	$25,000

On August 10, 2009, HRC formed a PAC with the name of HRC Maine Marriage PAC. HRC made the following contributions from its general treasury to the HRC Maine Marriage PAC:

#	Date	Amount
2	8/10/2009	$50,000
	8/19/2009	$15,000
4	10/15/2009	$30,000

Together, these four contributions from the general treasury of HRC to oppose the referendum total $120,000.⁴

As HRC mentions several times in its responses, the HRC Maine Marriage PAC raised money from many donors other than HRC which the PAC publicly reported. The following table summarizes the cash activity by HRC Maine Marriage PAC:

Summary of Cash Activity by HRC Maine Marriage PAC (does not include $25,000 that HRC donated directly to No on 1 on 6/18/2009)
Cash Revenue		Expenditures
from HRC General Treas.	$95,000.00	donations to No on 1	$145,400.00
from Individuals	$45,030.00	Other	$3,732.43
unitemized ($50 or less)	$ 9,102.43
Total	$149,132.43	Total	$149,132.43

⁴ NOM alleges in its request that HRC made cash contributions from its general treasury to Maine PACs totaling $215,000, but the Commission staff is unable to find support for this figure from any of the data available. From subsequent communications with counsel for NOM, it appears that NOM may have misinterpreted data on the Commission's public access website.

In-kind contributions. The coalition PACs that were formed to support and oppose the 2009 referendum – Stand for Marriage Maine and No on 1 (respectively) – received support from paid employees of several organizations. The two PACs reported receiving the employees' assistance as in-kind contributions.

No on 1 reported receiving in-kind assistance from HRC totaling $126,155.57. This included compensation (and potentially benefits) which HRC paid to its employees and associated costs such as travel. The practice of No on 1 was to report a single amount per employee for each report period. The single amount included both compensation paid to the employee and the travel or other expenses associated with that employee. In addition, No on 1 disclosed the number of hours worked by that employee, which was a level of detail not required by law.

Allegations by NOM

NOM argues that HRC should have registered as a ballot question committee under 21-A M.R.S.A. § 1056-B – separate and apart from its PAC – because HRC received contributions exceeding $5,000 for the purpose of opposing the Maine referendum. NOM alleges that HRC deposited these contributions into its general treasury and never disclosed the sources of its contributions. (NOM Request, at 1) NOM is essentially arguing that the Commission should investigate whether the $120,000 that was given by HRC to No on 1 (directly or through the HRC Maine Marriage PAC) as well as the $126,155.27 of in-kind assistance provided to No on 1 was raised by HRC through solicitations relating to the Maine referendum that would require HRC to have registered and filed reports as a ballot question committee.

Email communications. In support of its arguments, NOM attached as Exhibit A to its May 28 request for an investigation

- five fundraising emails from 2009 that mention the Maine referendum
- four monthly newsletters distributed by HRC in 2009 by email that solicit donations or purchases

NOM contends that donations received by HRC in response to these communications qualify as contributions under §§ 1056-B(2-A)(B) and/or (C). (NOM Request, at 1-2)

Funding from Bruce Bastian. Two of these emails (apparently sent in May 2009) describe a “matching gift of up to $120,000” pledged by a member of HRC’s board of directors to match online donations received in a three-day period. Based on the email’s description of the matching gift, NOM contends that the donor made a $120,000 contribution for the purpose of opposing the Maine referendum. (NOM Request, at 2)

Major donations. NOM also argues for an investigation because some of the donations that HRC made to No on 1 or to HRC Maine Marriage PAC ($15,000, $25,000, $30,000 and $50,000) are in the same dollar amounts as donations that HRC received during the fiscal year beginning April 1, 2009 (NOM Request, at 2). In support of this argument, NOM attaches the 43 pages from HRC’s 2009 Form 990 listing many donations of $5,000 or more received by HRC during the year from April 1, 2009 to March 31, 2010.

Response by Human Rights Campaign

HRC urges the Commission to take no action on NOM’s request, which HRC characterizes as “untimely and retaliatory.” (HRC 7/14 Response, at 1)

HRC asks the Commission to consider that campaign finance filers are entitled to rely on the four-year record-keeping requirement without fear of requests to produce older records. According to HRC, it would be unduly burdensome and unfair for the Commission to initiate an investigation nearly five years after the events in question. In its July 14, 2014 Response (at 1-2), HRC states generally that “Moreover, it would be difficult if not impossible for HRC to reconstruct specific circumstances or recover documents related to our campaign activities so long after they occurred.”⁵

⁵ In its subsequent response, HRC stated it could not provide the amounts received from two emails, because it “has transitioned to a new technical e-mail fundraising platform.” (HRC 8/6 Response, at 1)

HRC states that during the fiscal year beginning April 1, 2009, the general treasury of HRC received around $30 million in revenue. According to HRC, major donors provided only 17% of this revenue. HRC describes its revenue sources as “a diverse set of consistent funding streams throughout the year, including a national street canvass program, dozens of gala dinners and community events across the country, merchandise sales and corporate sponsorships.” (HRC 7/14 Response, at 3-4)

HRC claims that the $120,000 in money that it donated to No on 1 and to HRC Maine Marriage PAC came from this general treasury, and that the money was not solicited for purposes of opposing the Maine referendum. It notes that the $120,000 represented 0.4% of HRC’s overall revenues for the fiscal year. (HRC 7/14 Response, at 3)

HRC states that while it considered the Maine referendum to be an important concern in 2009, it did not have a formal leadership role in the campaign against the referendum. HRC states that its donations to the Maine campaign represent 0.87% (less than one percent) of its program expenses. (HRC 7/14 Response, at 5) It describes other major civil rights projects on which it worked in 2009, such as employment discrimination, preventing hate crimes, and building a grassroots network to lobby officials.

HRC explains that its fundraising staff has long operated under strict instructions that general fund donors are not to be solicited for specific ballot measures. Once a referendum in Maine was anticipated in 2009, HRC understood that individual donors would need to be tracked and reported publicly. It contacted Commission staff (former employee Jeremy Brown), engaged local attorney Kate Knox, and set up HRC Maine Marriage PAC so that HRC could explicitly solicit donors to oppose the referendum. It claims that HRC Maine Marriage PAC raised $49,000 from 652 individual donors. (HRC 7/14 Response, at 3)

Analysis and Recommendation by Commission Staff

NOM asks the Commission to investigate whether HRC received contributions of more than $5,000 into its general treasury from donors whom Maine Election Law required to be disclosed, based on the email communications attached to its request, including two referencing a matching gift by Bruce Bastian, and major donations that appear on HRC's Form 990. After careful examination of all of the material submitted by NOM and the responses provided by HRC, the Commission staff recommends against conducting the investigation for reasons that are more fully set forth below.

Fundraising Emails and Email Newsletters

NOM has produced five fundraising emails from 2009. The timing of the emails can be roughly ascertained based on events mentioned in the emails.

	Content	Recipient Organization	Month
1	Discusses threats to marriage equality gains made in VT, IA, D.C. and ME; donations in next three days will be matched by board member Bruce Bastian	HRC	May 2009
2	Discusses threats to marriage equality gains in ME, NH and IA; donations by midnight will be matched	HRC	May 2009
3	Exclusively describes the Maine people's veto referendum and solicits donations to HRC Maine Marriage PAC	HRC Maine Marriage PAC	September or early October 2009
4	Solicits funds for $200,000 to promote federal hate crimes law; developments in ME referenced in bullet points as a sign of opposition to progress; describes President Obama's speech at National Dinner	HRC	Mid-October 2009 (based on reference to annual HRC dinner, held on 10/10/2009)
5	Discusses loss in Maine on the previous day	HRC	11/4/2009 (day after ME election)

In addition, NOM has produced four email newsletters distributed by HRC for May, July, September and October 2009. The Maine referendum is not mentioned in the May newsletter. The referendum is listed in the July, September and October newsletters among six or seven very brief items under the heading of "What has HRC done for me lately?" Each item apparently links to a larger article or story, which NOM has not included.

Although there is a fundraising component to the newsletters (described below), the newsletters are more focused on providing an update of HRC's activities in the area of discrimination, marriage, and hate crimes; conveying news articles of interest to the audience; highlighting opportunities for political activity; marketing the HRC credit card and goods available for purchase; and profiling an HRC activist each month.

Three of the newsletters do contain a section entitled "Support" which solicits contributions or purchases, but the Maine marriage referendum is not specifically mentioned:

- in the Support section of the July newsletter, HRC solicits donations to "help fund the fight to get the [federal] Matthew Shepard Act on the President's desk for signature." The Maine referendum and the issue of same-sex marriage are not mentioned in this section of the newsletter.
- in the Support section of the September newsletter, HRC announces that tickets are available for HRC's National Dinner. Again, the Maine referendum and the issue of same-sex marriage are not mentioned in this section.
- donations are solicited in the Support section of the October newsletter for the combined objectives of a federal hate crimes bill, a federal non-discrimination law, "Marriage equality fights in states throughout the country and Washington, D.C.," and a march on Washington for LGBT equality. The subject of marriage equality is mentioned in a general way, but Maine and the Maine referendum are not mentioned.

In Nat'l Org. for Marriage, Inc. v. McKee, 669 F.3d 34 (1st Cir. 2012), cert denied, 133 S. Ct 163 (2012), the U.S. Court of Appeals analyzed some of the emails sent by NOM that mentioned the Maine referendum. The court found that the language in the emails soliciting donations would have resulted in reportable contributions, because they would lead a contributor to believe that NOM would use the donated funds to initiate or influence a campaign. Id. at 46-47. The court cited examples of solicitations, such as

Your support today will allow us to start the referendum process immediately when the law is signed, ensuring that the measure does not take effect before the people of Maine have had their say. Can you afford a gift of $35, $50 or $100 today to help stop same-sex marriage not just in Maine, but in New Hampshire, Iowa, and other states as well? (NOM email on May 6, 2009)

Can you help us with $10, $25, or $100 so that Maine – and our country – can recover the true meaning of marriage? (July 10, 2009)

Help us fight to protect marriage in Iowa, Maine and everywhere across this great land – donate today! (August 28, 2009)

The Commission reached the same conclusion in its recent determination regarding NOM's status as a ballot question committee. Applying the same analysis, the Commission staff's assessment is that the first two fundraising emails in NOM's Exhibit A (numbered as 1 and 2 on page 10) could have led donors to believe that part or all of their contributions would be spent to oppose the Maine referendum. Email #3 does concern the Maine referendum, but it solicited funds directly for HRC Maine Marriage PAC. Email #4 focuses on fundraising for HRC's effort to pass federal hate crime legislation and makes only one brief reference to Maine. Email #5 was sent after the Maine referendum election was over. Thus, only emails ## 1 and 2 appear to meet the test under § 1056-B(2-A)(B) or (C).

The Commission staff asked HRC to provide the amounts that HRC received in response to emails #1 and #2. HRC responded on August 6, 2014 that it is unable to provide these specific amounts because, in the intervening years since 2009, it has moved to a new fundraising platform. (HRC 8/6/2014 Response, at 1) Given the frequency with which many organizations update computer systems and change vendors, this is not surprising. (We note that, in response to some of the Commission's 2013 investigative requests, NOM was also unable to determine how much it received in response to certain emails solicitations.)

With respect to the monthly email newsletters, they do not include clear suggestions to potential donors that their contributions would specifically be spent to oppose the Maine referendum.

- The Maine referendum is not mentioned in any section of the May newsletter.
- The Support section of the July newsletter suggests that donation will be used to advance federal legislation, the Matthew Shepard Act. There is no reference to the Maine referendum or the issue of marriage in the Support section.
- The Maine referendum is not mentioned in the Support sections of the September and October newsletters.

Accordingly, these communications do not appear to meet the definition of “contribution” under § 1056-B(2-A).

The evidence presented by NOM that HRC received more than $5,000 in “contributions” (as defined by § 1056-B(2-A)) from fundraising emails is not strong. The amounts received by HRC from emails #1 and #2 cannot be determined, and could easily be less than $5,000. In order to find that HRC violated § 1056-B based on these email communications alone, the Commission would need to find by a preponderance of the evidence that HRC received more than $5,000 in contributions. That evidence is not present now and is unlikely to be developed through further investigation.

Matching Gift from Board Member Bruce Bastian

In its May 28 request, NOM asserted that HRC’s emails “reveal a major donation of $120,000 that appears to have been given expressly [by Board member Bruce Bastian] for the purpose of influencing the 2009 Maine marriage ballot question.” NOM seems to be relying on a statement in email #1 discussed above that “Today, our lead donor in the fight against Prop. 8 and longtime HRC Board member, Bruce Bastian of Orem, Utah has challenged us to redouble these [fundraising] efforts. As he’s done at key moments in the past, Bruce will match every online contribution up to $120,000, before midnight on Thursday.” Email #2 does not mention Mr. Bastian, but it appears to have been sent shortly after email #1 and references a time-limited matching gift.

HRC has provided preliminary information suggesting that NOM is making incorrect inferences about the amount and purpose of a contribution from Mr. Bastian.⁶

According to HRC:

Bruce Bastian made significant donations to HRC in 2009 and in prior and subsequent years. Mr. Bastian and other major donors have on occasion permitted their names to be used to solicit matching donations. However, their gifts are pre-committed and are not directly tied to the amount of donations received in response to a particular solicitation. Nor do the donors have any specific role in determining how the funds received in connection with the match are used. In 2009, Mr. Bastian made donations in excess of the amount referenced in the fundraising e-mail prior to the date of the email. He made regular subsequent donations through the year. To the best of our knowledge, we never communicated with Mr. Bastian regarding the content of these fundraising emails.

HRC indicates that – contrary to the fundraising language in the email – Mr. Bastian had already given more than $120,000 prior to the date of the email. Mr. Bastian, apparently, did not spontaneously offer a matching challenge to HRC on the day of the email for the purpose of protecting recent victories in Vermont, Iowa, and Maine. Rather, he had made a commitment and a donation at some time prior to the date of the email.

Major Donors

NOM observes that some of the amounts that HRC donated to No on 1 or the HRC Maine Marriage PAC happen to correspond to amounts that HRC reported receiving during the year beginning April 1, 2009 on its Form 990. NOM does not identify which entries on Schedule B of the Form 990 it is referring to, but that schedule does reflect some donations in the amounts of $15,000, $25,000, $30,000 and $50,000. There is no indication, however, that HRC received these four amounts at or about the time that HRC donated these amounts to HRC Maine Marriage PAC or No on 1. Since the Form 990 covers the fiscal year from April 1, 2009 through March 31, 2010, HRC could easily have received these four contributions during the five months after the November 3, 2009 election.

⁶ HRC's Form 990 does not reveal any contribution in the amount of $120,000.

In short, NOM has presented no evidence that HRC engaged in fundraising specifically for the Maine referendum, other than two fundraising emails discussed above. The amounts received by HRC from emails #1 and 2 cannot be determined and could easily be less than $5,000. Other factors relating to HRC's role in the Maine campaign also deserve consideration, as discussed below.

The amounts that HRC Donated to Maine PACs for Purposes of Opposing the 2009 Referendum Represent a Small Part of HRC's 2009 Revenues and Expenditures

As a non-profit corporation, HRC reported its revenues and expenses to the Internal Revenue Service during a fiscal year that began on April 1, 2009. According to Part I of HRC's Form 990, it received the following income:

Contributions and grants	$26,691,682
Program service revenue	$192,500
Investment income	$51,771
Other revenue	$5,335,200
Total	$32,271,153

The $120,000 in cash that HRC donated is 0.37% of HRC's total cash revenues for the fiscal year (roughly one-third of one percent). Even including the in-kind donation of $126,155.27 in staff time and associated expenses to oppose the referendum, the total spending by HRC represents only 0.76% of its revenues for 2009.

On the spending side of HRC's 2009 activities, the amount of resources that HRC dedicated to the Maine campaign was very small compared to its overall spending on its 2009 programs. HRC is a large civil rights advocacy organization that has existed since the 1980s. It works on a variety of issues important to its constituencies, including employment discrimination, hate crimes, and same-sex marriage. In fiscal year 2009, HRC reported to the IRS that it spent a total of $18,387.836 on program services.⁷ The ⁷ In addition to spending for program services, HRC spent roughly $3.5 million for management and general expenses and $3 million for fundraising expenses.

money spent by HRC to defeat the Maine referendum through its cash donations and payments to staff made up 1.3% of HRC's spending on program services.⁸

In the opinion of the Commission staff, the objective facts of HRC's finances support its argument that it paid for its 2009 activities against the Maine referendum from general treasury money that was raised without reference to the Maine referendum. HRC claims that HRC's revenues come from a diverse set of consistent funding streams throughout the year, including a national street canvass program, dozens of gala dinners and community events across the country, merchandise sales and corporate sponsorships. Fundraising from year to year follows a similar calendar and structure, regardless of national or local developments. ...

As a general matter, HRC avoids soliciting restricted general treasury contributions for particular federal or state advocacy efforts. In the case of state or local ballot measures, HRC has been careful to establish political action committees or ballot committees early on in campaigns where and when required.

(HRC 7/14 Response, at 4) Raising $120,000 (or $246,155, including the in-kind staff time and expenses) does not appear to be a heavy lift for an organization of HRC's scope and size. There is no indication that the Maine referendum would have caused HRC to alter its established fundraising techniques or require additional fundraising concentrated on the Maine referendum.

Indeed, HRC could have afforded the $120,000 in cash donations it made to the PACs involved in Maine's referendum from general business income that it received in 2009, which included:

- $972,322 from net sales of goods
- Rental of real property totaling $900,591
- Royalties of $638,219
- Advertising income totaling $196,000

⁸ This percentage is based on a total of $246,155.27 in spending related to Maine, divided by HRC's total program service spending of $18,387,836.

HRC was not in a Leadership Position in the Political Campaign against the 2009 Referendum

There is no evidence that HRC was in a leadership position in the campaign to oppose the 2009 referendum. HRC donated money and paid staff time (as did many organizations for and against the referendum), but did not appear to be in charge of campaign management, field operations, communications to voters, etc.⁹ The 2009 anti-referendum campaign was managed by Jesse Connolly, a political consultant in Maine who had previously worked for Democratic candidates. There is no indication that Mr. Connolly had any particular ties to HRC or that his selection was influenced by HRC. In particular, there is no indication that HRC personnel or contractors were in positions of responsibility for raising money for the political campaign or managing the political fundraising. HRC provided 3.7% of the cash received by No on 1 – a small proportion.

HRC's role in the 2009 No on 1 campaign appears to be that of a donor – not a leader or manager. While a leadership role in the political campaign is not a required element in determining whether an organization must register as a ballot question committee under 21-A M.R.S. § 1056-B, it can be one of many factual circumstances that the Commission considers in weighing the likelihood that the organization raised money for the purpose of supporting or opposing a particular ballot question, as opposed to simply making a contribution to the Maine PAC out of general treasury funds. In the case of HRC and the 2009 anti-referendum campaign, the campaign leadership factor is not present.

HRC's Demonstrated Efforts to Comply with Maine Law

In considering whether or not to initiate an investigation, the Commission staff believes it is appropriate to give some weight to HRC's efforts to comply with Maine law. HRC did form a PAC which it controlled. After raising money for the PAC, HRC tracked hundreds of contributions. (HRC claims that the PAC received contributions from 652 donors.) The contributions were publicly disclosed by the HRC Maine Marriage PAC. In addition, HRC apparently tracked the number of hours that its employees dedicated to defeating the referendum (and related expenses) because No on 1 reported this assistance as an in-kind contribution. This record-keeping and disclosure does not guarantee that in 2009 HRC fully complied with Maine's disclosure laws in every respect, but it is sufficient to demonstrate a level of regard for compliance.

Conclusion and Note on Equal Application of the Law

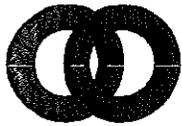

For the above reasons, the Commission recommends against conducting the investigation of HRC requested by NOM. Other than two emails, NOM has produced no significant evidence that HRC solicited money in a manner that could reasonably lead donors to believe that their contributions would be spent to oppose the Maine referendum. The money that HRC contributed to the anti-referendum campaign was a small portion of HRC's 2009 revenues (less than 1%) and could easily have been financed through HRC's traditional fundraising techniques and general treasury, as HRC claims. There is no evidence that HRC took on a leadership role in terms of fundraising for the Maine referendum campaign.

The delay of nearly five years in filing the complaint would hamper any investigation, both in terms of financial records and testimonial evidence. The Commission should take into consideration the probabilities that a violation may have occurred and that any violation could be determined by a preponderance of the evidence, at this late date, through further investigation. Also, the staff recommends taking into consideration the diminished public interest in initiating an investigation nearly five years after the fundraising occurred, as well as the limitations of Commission staff resources during this busy election year.

Although the Commission staff does not recommend conducting an investigation of the marriage advocates' activities five years after the fact, we do think it is appropriate to re-assess our guidance to national organizations that may wish to influence referendum campaigns in Maine concerning the requirements of Maine's ballot question committee statute. More frequently, money is being spent in Maine referendum elections by national organizations that raise funds in different states, and they all should be aware of the requirement to register and file reports if they are raising or spending those funds for the purpose of promoting or opposing a matter on the ballot in Maine. The staff will be reviewing our written educational materials to make sure that they provide the clearest possible explanations regarding the reporting of contributions, and the threshold for registering as a ballot question committee.

Thank you for your consideration of this memo.

Re: Request for Investigation of Human Rights Campaign, Inc.

Members of the Commission,

Pursuant to Maine Revised Statutes Title 21-A, § 1003(2) and Commission Rule Chapter 1, Paragraph 4(2)(C), I hereby submit this request for an investigation by the Commission to determine whether the Human Rights Campaign, Inc., has violated Maine's campaign registration and reporting laws, as those laws have recently been interpreted and applied by the Commission in the matter of National Organization for Marriage, Inc. The following facts are made upon personal knowledge and on the basis of the exhibits attached.

Specifically, in 2009, the Human Rights Campaign, Inc. ("HRC"), a nonprofit corporation with headquarters at 1640 Rhode Island Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20036, solicited and received "contributions," as defined in 21-A M.R.S.A. § 1056-B(2-A) and interpreted by the Commission, in excess of $5,000 for the purpose of influencing a campaign as defined by 21-A M.R.S.A. § 1052(1). Contrary to the requirements of 21-A M.R.S.A. § 1056(B), HRC did not register with the Commission as a Ballot Question Committee within 7 days of receiving these contributions and did not file reports with the Commission. HRC subsequently made cash contributions from its general treasury to Maine political action committees amounting to roughly $215,000 during 2009-10.¹ The source of these contributions was, therefore, never disclosed to the people of Maine and Maine voters were deprived of information concerning who was spending money to influence their vote in the ballot question election of 2009.

HRC likely received contributions in excess of $5,000 through email and newsletter solicitations made throughout 2009. Attached to this request are several emails that contain solicitations for contributions to be used to influence a Maine ballot question. The emails refer to the marriage question on the ballot in Maine in 2009 and refer to HRC's involvement in opposing the question. Therefore, the emails constitute solicitations that would lead a donor to believe that any funds given would be used specifically for the purpose of defeating or influencing a Maine ballot question. 21-A M.R.S.A. § 1056-B(2-A)(B), as interpreted by the Commission. In the alternative, any donations received in response to the emails are contributions under Maine law because they can reasonably be determined to have been provided for the purpose of defeating or influencing a Maine ballot question when viewed in the context of the contribution and HRC's active opposition to the ballot question. 21-A M.R.S.A. § 1056-B(2-A)(C), as interpreted by the Commission. An investigation of HRC is warranted to determine whether the amount of contributions received in response to these emails aggregated in excess of $5,000. If they did, HRC should have registered and reported as a Ballot Question Committee, in accord with the interpretation of Maine law that has been adopted by the Commission.

Some of the emails attached as exhibits here contain solicitations for donations to a Maine PAC called Human Rights Campaign Maine Marriage PAC. Nevertheless, each of the emails also contains a "Donate" button built into the template which likely goes to HRC itself and not the Maine PAC. Consistent with the Commission's recent application in another matter, any donations received through this button to HRC would be considered contributions under Maine law.

In addition, the emails reveal a major donation of $120,000 that appears to have been given expressly for the purpose of influencing the 2009 Maine marriage ballot question. In an email from May 2009, HRC announces a $120,000 matching grant to "redouble these efforts" in "fighting back" against the Maine ballot question. This single donation constitutes a contribution under Subsection 1056-B(2-A)(B) or (C) as interpreted by the Commission and required HRC to register and report as a BQC.

Furthermore, HRC's 2009 Form 990 tax return reveals that it received several large donations into its general treasury during 2009 that were of the same size as contributions it then made to Maine political action committees. An investigation is warranted to determine whether any communications between HRC and these donors would have lead the donors to believe that part or all of their funds would be used specifically for the purpose of defeating or influencing a Maine ballot question. In other words, whether the language of the solicitation included references to the Maine ballot question, for example, or to the fact that HRC was giving large contributions to Maine political action committees. 21-A M.R.S.A. § 1056-B(2-A)(B). In the alternative, the timing of the donations may have created a context and circumstances whereby the donations could be reasonably determined to have been contributions. 21-A M.R.S.A. § 1056-B(2-A)(C).

For these reasons, HRC should have registered and reported as a ballot question committee in Maine in 2009.

Disclaimer: An investigation of HRC is warranted only because of the manner in which the Commission recently has chosen to apply the definition of "ballot question committee" and "contribution" under Maine law. The statutes themselves do not lend themselves to an interpretation that would include HRC's 2009 conduct as regulable. Nevertheless, another organization, the National Organization for Marriage, engaged in precisely the same conduct in 2009 as HRC and has just recently been found in violation of the ballot question committee law. As a result of this novel and far-reaching application of the statute, it has only now become apparent that HRC's (and many other organizations') conduct in 2009 was also in violation of Maine law. The Commission has an obligation, by law, to enforce Maine's campaign finance law. The reports of the PAC's opposing the 2009 marriage ballot question contained several large contributions from organizations that had not registered as Ballot Question Committees in Maine, even though their public communications were referring to the 2009 ballot question. Most often, enforcement matter are generated internally by Commission staff. Nevertheless, the plain language of the statute, together with the confines of the First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, does not regulate the activity, so the public could not have anticipated, before the Commission's enforcement action against the National Organization for Marriage, that other violations of Maine law had occurred.

Maine Commission on Governmental Ethics and Election Practices

Respectfully submitted,

Dated: May 28, 2014

Dear [REDACTED]

It's been a whirlwind of progress toward marriage equality. Vermont. Iowa. Washington, D.C. And just last week, an incredible win in Maine.

But every one of these victories is in the crosshairs.

The radical right is already collecting signatures in a Prop. 8-style effort to put an end to Maine's new marriage equality law. They're airing a new round of anti-LGBT attack ads as well.

So we're fighting back. Proposition 8 proved that we'll need massive efforts to defend our gains.

Today, our lead donor in the fight against Prop. 8 and longtime HRC Board Member, Bruce Bastian of Orem, Utah, has challenged us to redouble these efforts.

As he's done at key moments in the past, Bruce will match every online contribution, up to $120,000, before midnight on Thursday.

Three days to double your gift!

A NEW round of anti-LGBT ads is hitting the airwaves. Video >>

Marriage gains in Maine and other states are in jeopardy.

Join now and your gift doubles.

Watch this disturbing ad, now on the air – then join HRC and have your donation DOUBLED.

Getting the truth in front of the American public is no small undertaking. Extremist groups are not only attacking equal rights we've already won – they are raising millions to shut down progress on victories yet to come.

Backed by supporters like you, here's how we're making a stand:

- In Maine, preparing to defend marriage equality at the ballot – sure to be a major fight;
- In California, rolling out a massive initiative to organize clergy and religious communities in support of marriage equality;
- In New Hampshire, building grassroots pressure behind the marriage bill now making its way to the governor's desk;
- In New York, working with state groups to organize support for a marriage bill scheduled for a vote in the state Assembly today;
- In Iowa, ensuring elected leaders continue standing strong against the radical right's relentless campaign to overturn the recent court ruling;
- In Connecticut and Vermont, ensuring that marriage equality is protected forever.

Every single one of these efforts is being threatened. The truth is on our side, but we need YOUR support to broadcast it, talk face-to-face with Americans, and win hearts and minds.

You can DOUBLE your support when you join HRC right now – every dollar you give will have twice the impact for equality. I hope you'll help us meet this challenge.

Help us protect recent victories and beat back the right-wing propaganda machine – DOUBLE your impact right now. This matching gift challenge ends on Thursday night.

We've accomplished so much, but so much more is possible in 2009 – and so much could be lost.
Please donate generously.

Thank you for all you do.

Warmly,

 Joe

Dear [REDACTED]

The right-wing National Organization for Marriage, which helped pass Proposition 8, is trying desperately to reverse our victories in Maine and elsewhere – pumping in resources, staff, and $1.5 million in anti-LGBT ads.

And guess who's helping raise all that money? Former Sen. Rick Santorum, who has compared LGBT Americans to people who have sex with dogs.

In a solicitation letter for the group, Santorum calls marriage equality a "radical assault by an out-of-control government." (Then he plugs his new book.)

HRC is working to defend marriage equality across the country, and there couldn't be a more important time for your support: join as a new member today, and every dollar you give will be MATCHED.

You've never given to HRC, but this is the moment we need you most.

Have your donation DOUBLED before midnight.

No victory is safe. Not while extremists continue their relentless misinformation campaign. Here's just a sample of what we're up against:

- Right-wing groups have announced plans to gather the 55,000 signatures needed to get a Prop 8-style referendum on the Maine ballot this November;
- They are airing TV ads in New Hampshire slamming the governor who will soon decide the fate of marriage equality in the state.
- In the San Francisco Chronicle last week, the California Family Council announced an "education and political action front" against marriage equality.
- Right-wing icon Pat Robertson told his nationwide TV audience that same-sex marriage is "just the beginning on a long downward slide" toward legalizing bestiality, polygamy, child molestation, and pedophilia.
- In Iowa, the radical right has unleashed a relentless campaign to overturn the recent court ruling, taking aim at the heroic legislators who are standing strong for equality.

We can't defend our gains and stand up to these threats without your support.

Don't wait – you only have until midnight to DOUBLE your donation.

Remember, every dollar will be doubled – meaning every dollar you give goes twice as far for equality. I hope you'll help us stand up to the lies.

Thank you for all you do.

Warmly,

DEADLINE MIDNIGHT

You've still never given to HRC!

Only hours left to take advantage of our matching gift and help us fight right wing attack ads like this:

Join before midnight, and your donation will DOUBLE!

HUMAN
CAMPAIGN®

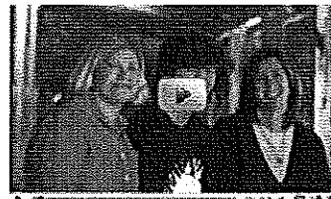

Dear [REDACTED]

The next big battle is here, and we need your help.

The same anti-equality forces that spent millions and spread lies to pass Proposition 8 in California have set their sights on Maine. The National Organization for Marriage, Focus on the Family and the PR firm behind Prop. 8 have gone East to overturn the marriage equality law that passed this spring.

There's a lot riding on the outcome of this vote – marriage equality for Maine and momentum for our fight nationwide.

HRC has been on the ground in Maine for months, working with local groups across the state and the NO on 1/Protect Maine Equality campaign. Will you help run this amazing new ad produced by the campaign and bolster our efforts?

Help run this incredibly effective ad from the campaign to defend marriage equality in Maine.

Donate to HRC's Maine Marriage PAC.

Watch the ad and donate to help run it in key markets – 100% of your gift will go straight to the fight for equality in Maine.

We have less than 60 days until Mainers will vote on a Prop. 8-style initiative that would void the marriage equality law enacted this spring.

We've received word that right-wing groups have already spent $600,000 to blanket the state with anti-marriage ads. We can count on a campaign fueled by distortion and lies, just like we saw in California last year.

We need to fight back with the truth. And let me be clear: a victory in Maine is within our reach... But we need more support early in the game.

Were there lessons in California? Certainly. One key lesson was that not enough people invested early to defeat Prop. 8. We can't let that happen again.

Did you know that an early contribution is, literally, three times more valuable to a campaign than one given at the end? It's true.

Invest directly in this critical effort – give to the HRC Maine Marriage PAC.

This isn't just about Maine. We can stop these anti-equality forces – and when we do, we'll help protect and defend marriage equality everywhere. Thank you for your help.

Warmly,

Joe Solmonese

HUMAN RIGHTS CAMPAIGN®

Dear [REDACTED]

This weekend was big.

From President Obama's speech at our National Dinner to final House passage of hate crimes to the National Equality March, the nation's attention is on LGBT equality – we have a burst of momentum.

But this is no time to grow complacent. We need your help to capitalize on this moment.

The next month and a half will be tough – while we fight against anti-LGBT ballot initiatives in multiple states, we must also act NOW to push our federal agenda to its tipping point, or we could miss this window.

We need to raise $200,000 for a renewed effort to seize this opportunity and advance our federal agenda and fight for marriage equality in the states without delay. Will you be part of this fight?

We've created a video that shows how your support helps us cut through the lies.

Watch the video and help us raise $200,000 by October 26 to make sure a signed hate crimes law is just the first victory we seize this fall.

We'll have to be strategic to build on our momentum. It won't last forever. Because the signs of our opposition are all around:

- Right-wing groups up in arms over President Obama's speech, declaring that he "used the bully pulpit tonight to defy the Creator" and supports "radical social policies," while demanding that he meet with "ex-gays" at the White House.
- Anti-LGBT groups behind a Prop. 8-style initiative in Maine blanketing the airwaves with the same fear-mongering ads they used in California, including their claim that same-sex marriage would be "pushed on students."
- The new President of the UN General Assembly – which is charged with protecting rights and safety around the world – calling homosexuality "totally unacceptable."
- A workshop at a right-wing conference in St. Louis – "How to Counter the Homosexual Extremist Movement" – on how to be less "nice" in fighting against gay rights.

We're fighting back. With your support right now, our first step is to get the hate crimes bill signed into law; then we'll make it illegal to fire and harass LGBT employees once and for all with an inclusive Employment Non-Discrimination Act and an end to Don't Ask, Don't Tell.

After this weekend, we have a burst of momentum.

But without a major advocacy push now, it could be lost.

Watch this video and help us raise $200,000 to capitalize on this moment.

These vital protections – and the millions more LGBT people who will be able to come out because of them – will lay the foundation for the toughest Congressional battle: repealing the Defense of Marriage Act.

I know exactly what it is that will allow us to win these battles. I saw it in the crowd at our dinner. I see it in the hundreds of volunteers who have met with Congress members through our No Excuses campaign. And it was in every face at the National Equality March.

It's determination. Plain and simple and unrelenting.

Please give as generously as you can today – help us pass the life-changing bills before Congress and win multiple state-level challenges.

Thank you for being part of this historic fight with us.

Brutal hate crime on video – tell the Senate to pass the bill!

Last week, the brutal beating of a gay man was caught on tape in New York. As the Senate prepares for its final vote on the hate crimes bill, make sure your senators watch this shocking video – understanding that it could just as easily have happened to any LGBT constituent – and send the bill to the President without delay.

Momentum is building

A hate crimes bill just one Senate vote from the President's desk. An inclusive ENDA up for debate in Congress before the end of the year. Marriage equality fights in states throughout the country and Washington, D.C. And thousands marching on Washington for LGBT equality. We have momentum. But this is no time to rest. Help us raise $200,000 by October 26 to push our agenda to its tipping point – or we could miss this window.

CAMPAIGN®

Dear [REDACTED]

A deep and bitter disappointment from Maine yesterday: Maine voters have passed a devastating Proposition 8-style measure overturning the state's marriage equality law.

Our hearts are with everyone in Maine who fought so hard to win recognition for their families. The legislature passed marriage equality earlier this year, but a divisive anti-LGBT campaign to scare voters seems to have worked.

It is infuriating to see that the same fear-mongering ads that were used to pass Prop. 8 a year ago have triumphed again at the expense of so many. This is a terrible loss.

Although we lost our battle in Maine, we will not allow the lies and hate – the foundation on which our opponents built their campaign – to break our spirits. We are on the right side of history and we will continue this fight with even more vigor.

Our friends at No on 1/Protect Maine Equality waged a strong and smart campaign. Thousands of volunteers exposed hundreds of thousands of Mainers to the real lives of same-sex couples and their families – many for the first time.

I am angry. But more importantly, I am determined that with the anger I feel today from this outcome in Maine, we'll rise ever stronger to demand equal treatment under the law and equal respect for our relationships in Maine, California, New Jersey, and every state in the Union.

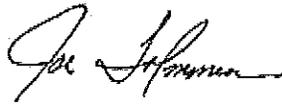

And in other state elections yesterday...

- In Washington state, voters appear to have cast their ballots to approve Referendum 71, a measure that would expand domestic partnerships to have every state-level right and benefit afforded to married couples. I feel confident that when all of the votes are counted, it will be clear that the voters of Washington chose to provide equal rights and benefits to same-sex couples and their families.
- In New Jersey, Governor Jon Corzine – endorsed by HRC – has lost his re-election bid. He has been a strong ally for LGBT people in New Jersey, and he had pledged repeatedly to sign a marriage equality bill that could still be passed by legislators later this year.
- In Virginia, HRC endorsed Creigh Deeds for governor and placed 20 staffers at work in key delegate races. Deeds unfortunately lost his bid for governor, but there will be new pro-equality voices in the House of Delegates next year.
- In Kalamazoo, Michigan, right-wing groups wanted to make sure it stayed legal to fire or refuse housing to someone just because they're LGBT. 65% of Kalamazoo voters disagreed and voted to approve Ordinance 1856, expanding the city's existing anti-discrimination law to include sexual orientation and gender identity.

Check HRC's Backstory blog for updates on these and other races throughout the day.

[REDACTED] I know that the results of today's elections are frustrating.

But having seen the passion and dedication of volunteers in this election, I know that tomorrow is a new day – and that our movement has the strength and power it needs to keep moving forward.

IN-KIND CONTRIBUTIONS

- In-kind contributions are goods and services (including facilities) that a committee received at no cost or at a cost less than the fair market value. They include all goods and services purchased for the campaign by the committee or supporters if the campaign does not expect to reimburse the committee or supporter. These contributions may come from the committee, supporters, PACs, party committees, or other entities.
- For contributors who gave more than $50, the name, address, occupation, and employer must be reported. If "information requested" is listed instead of occupation and employer, the committee is waiting to receive that information.
- In-kind contributions of $50 or less can be added together and reported as a lump sum.
- If the committee received a discount on goods and services, the amount of the discount must be reported as an in-kind contribution.
- Contributor Types
 - 1 = Individuals
 - 2 = Commercial Sources
 - 3 = Political Action Committees
 - 4 = Party Committees
 - 5 = Candidate Committees
 - 6 = Unitemized Contributions

OPPORTUNITY TO RESPOND TO REQUEST FOR INVESTIGATION

Dear Mr. Hurwitz:

On May 28, 2014, the Maine Commission on Governmental Ethics and Election Practices (the Commission) received the enclosed request for investigation from the National Organization for Marriage (NOM). In the letter, NOM's Executive Director requests that the Maine Ethics Commission investigate whether Human Rights Campaign, Inc. (HRC) was required to register and file campaign finance reports as a ballot question committee with the Commission, separately from the Human Rights Campaign Maine Marriage PAC.¹ I forwarded the letter and three exhibits to you electronically on May 29, 2014. If I should re-send the exhibits, please let me know.

The Commission will consider the request at a meeting on July 31, 2014 at 9:00 a.m. The meeting will be held at the Commission office at 45 Memorial Circle in Augusta. I anticipate that the Commissioners will decide whether to conduct an investigation.

Commission's Standards for Requests for Investigation

Under 21-A M.R.S.A. § 1003(2), a person may apply to the Commission to investigate whether an organization has violated campaign finance law. Under this provision, the Commission "shall review the application and shall make the investigation if the reasons stated for the request show sufficient grounds for believing that a violation may have occurred."

¹ I have attached a 2009 version of the ballot question committee reporting statute, 21-A M.R.S.A. §1056-B.

Opportunity to Respond

Please respond to NOM's request by Monday, July 14, 2014 concerning whether the Commission should conduct an investigation. In particular, the Commission staff suggests addressing the following compliance issues and questions raised by NOM's request:

- 1) Cash contributions from HRC to No on 1 Protect Maine Equality PAC

The PAC reports for the No on 1 Protect Maine Equality PAC list the following cash contributions from HRC to the PAC:

Date	Amount	Notes
6/18/2009	$25,000	Prior to formation of HRC Maine Marriage PAC
8/13/2009	$50,000	Also reported as expenditure by HRC Maine Marriage PAC

10/30/2009	$1,400	Also reported as expenditure by HRC Maine Marriage PAC
	$170,400	Total

Was the source of these contributions general treasury funds that HRC had on hand at the time, or were these funds raised by HRC for the purpose of supporting the No on 1 referendum campaign? What documentation has HRC retained that would reflect the source of these funds? Did HRC make any other cash contributions to the No on 1 campaign not listed in this table?

Did HRC make any commitment to the No on 1 campaign to raise a specific amount for the campaign or to donate a certain amount of cash? Did HRC raise any money specifically to oppose the Maine referendum? Were the amounts in Table 1 separated in a bank account or recorded internally as contributions received for the Maine referendum?

2) Email solicitations

NOM attached five emails from HRC and four HRCNews articles from HRC's website which mention the organization's activities in Maine. Please address whether these communications meet the definition of "contribution" in section 1056-B(2-A)(B) or (C).

3) Board member challenge gift

The first email attached to NOM's request for investigation references that a HRC board member, Bruce Bastian, would match all online contributions up to $120,000 received through a limited time ("before midnight on Thursday"). The email also discusses the Maine campaign along with other efforts by HRC. Please address whether Mr. Bastian's challenge gift, and any donations made by the deadline to trigger the match, met the definition of contribution in §1056-B(2-A)(B) or (C).

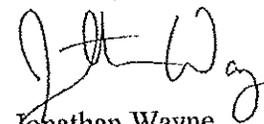

4) Other contributions received by HRC for the purpose of supporting the No on 1 referendum campaign

Please respond to Mr. Brown's allegation that the HRC "likely received contributions in excess of $5,000" as defined 21-A M.R.S.A. §§ 1056-B(2-A)(B) & (C).

You and/or local counsel are welcome to attend the meeting to comment on NOM's request for an investigation.

Thank you in advance for your response to this request. If you have any questions, please feel free to telephone me at (207) 287-4179.

Executive Director
Maine Commission on Governmental Ethics
& Election Practices

Augusta, ME 04333-0135

Dear Mr. Wayne:

On behalf of the Human Rights Campaign (HRC), I wish to respond to your letter dated June 23, 2014 providing us with an opportunity to answer the request for investigation made by the National Organization for Marriage (NOM).

We strongly urge the Commission on Governmental Ethics and Election Practices (the Commission) to decline to take action on NOM's untimely and retaliatory request. This request, made nearly five years after any alleged activities took place and after the Commission launched its investigation of NOM, not only is baseless and unsubstantiated, but also serves paradoxically to further validate the penalties imposed against NOM, which unlike HRC, openly flouted the law and declined to register as a PAC or file financial reports in connection with the Question 1 campaign in 2009. By contrast, HRC registered a PAC, disclosed donors who intended their contributions to support the referendum efforts and made a good faith effort throughout the campaign to comply with the letter and spirit of the law. If NOM had done the same, it presumably would have saved itself years of enforcement and litigation.

In its request, NOM makes a variety of inaccurate and unsupported allegations in hopes that it can convince the Commission that HRC operated similarly to NOM in the 2009 campaign. In fact, nothing could be further from the truth.

Although HRC believes that any formal investigation would be wholly inappropriate, we provide the following statement and response to guide you in making your determination. We of course respond with the caveat that statements below are based on our best recollection of events that transpired nearly five years ago.

I. NOM's Request is Untimely and Therefore Should Be Denied.

Despite there being no statutory time limit for the initiation of Commission investigations, Maine law imposes a four year recordkeeping requirement for committees required to register. 21-A M.R.S.A. § 1057. Filers, including HRC, are entitled to rely on this recordkeeping requirement without fear of unending requests for long past records. Any investigation initiated by the Commission in 2014, nearly five years after when NOM's allegations could have occurred, would be unfair and unduly burdensome in light of this requirement. Moreover, it would be difficult if not impossible for HRC to reconstruct specific circumstances or recover documents related to our campaign activities so long after they occurred.

It is particularly egregious for NOM to be making such allegations now when the factual basis and supporting documentation underlying its claims were available to it in 2009. If NOM believed legal violations occurred, or that it was being unfairly targeted, it had the opportunity to raise these issues to the Commission at that time. Opening an investigation now would not only undermine the recordkeeping requirement imposed by statute but provide a perverse incentive to individuals and groups to instigate never-ending investigations long after campaigns have concluded.

Commission staff recognized these timeliness concerns in its reply letter to NOM on May 16, 2014, stating that "[t]he appropriate time to raise these questions would have been in September 2009... Now, nearly five years later... there would be significant practical challenges to investigating these groups' 2009 fundraising and spending, both with regard to testimonial and documentary evidence." HRC concurs with the staff's assessment.

II. NOM's Request Fails to Meet Its Burden of Demonstrating "Sufficient Grounds" for a Violation.

According to 21-A M.R.S.A. § 1003(2), the Commission shall only initiate an investigation "if the reasons stated for the request show sufficient grounds for believing that a violation may have occurred." In this instance, NOM fails to meet even this base level threshold.

Displeased with the results of the Commission's nearly five year investigation, NOM has apparently decided that if it violated the law, other groups must have similarly committed the same violations. In support of its position, NOM makes baseless allegations that HRC must have raised general treasury funds explicitly for the Maine effort. However, NOM completely ignores the fact that HRC formed a PAC and solicited contributions for its PAC, all of which were publicly disclosed. In fact, NOM contradicts its claims by attaching in its Exhibit A a copy of an e-mail soliciting funds for HRC's PAC, from which all donations in response were properly and lawfully disclosed.

It should not be sufficient to instigate an investigation merely based upon speculation, conjecture and unsupported allegations. For example, NOM alleges that "HRC's 2009 Form 990 tax return reveals that it received several large donations into its general treasury during 2009 that were of the same size as contributions it then made to Maine political action committees." HRC made contributions of $5,000, $15,000, $25,000, $30,000, $40,000 and $50,000, among others, to the No on 1 campaign. It is not surprising nor does it support NOM's claim that HRC would have at various times throughout the year received similar general fund contributions from donors at these common giving levels.

A. HRC Complied with Maine Law by Properly Reporting All Individual Contributions Designated for the Maine Referendum Campaign.

At the outset, it is important to state that HRC donors who were solicited for the Maine campaign were carefully tracked and those individual contributors were all disclosed on the applicable PAC reports. NOM's request for investigation provides no evidence that individual donors were not reported as required under the law.

After NOM initiated its signature gathering efforts, HRC understood that individual donors to the Maine effort would have to be tracked and reported to the Commission and as a result, contacted and spoke with Jeremy Brown, PAC, Party and Lobbyist Registrar for the Commission. We also retained experienced local counsel Kate Knox. Upon receiving informal advice from the Commission and formal advice from counsel, HRC registered HRC Maine PAC on August 10, 2009 so that HRC could explicitly solicit donors to contribute to support our Maine referendum efforts.

As detailed in the PAC reports, during the course of the Maine campaign HRC's PAC raised $49,000 from 652 individual donors, all of whom were individually reported, which in turn it contributed to the No on 1 campaign. HRC filed complete reports on time, disclosing donors who contributed expressly to support the No on 1 campaign, and never received any correspondence from the Commission that reports were either untimely or inaccurate.

HRC's fundraising staff has long operated under strict instructions that general fund donors are not to be solicited for specific ballot measures unless the funds are to be raised into a state ballot measure PAC. HRC has dedicated specific e-mails to raise funds for these PACs, one of which, as mentioned, is confusingly proffered by NOM in its Exhibit A as evidence of non-compliance. In addition, we are confident that no major donors were communicated with in any way that would have suggested that their general fund contributions would be designated for the Maine campaign or any other ballot measure.

B. HRC's Campaign Contributions Were Drawn from General Treasury Funds Raised to Support the Organization's General Purposes.

In the 2009 campaign, HRC contributed $121,400 in general treasury funds to support the No on 1 campaign. This was in addition to the $49,000 that was specifically raised for the HRC Maine PAC and contributed from individual donors solicited to oppose the referendum effort.

With overall revenue that year of nearly $30 million, HRC had a vast and deep general treasury. Those funds were used to support a wide variety of programs across the country as are outlined in more detail below. HRC's $121,400 general treasury contribution to the referendum efforts represented 0.4% of its overall general treasury balance for that fiscal year. In short, HRC's general treasury balance always exceeded what it contributed to the Maine campaign – by an exponentially large margin.

HRC's financial picture in 2009 stands in stark contrast to NOM's. As the Commission found, NOM's cash on hand was small, and large donations were transferred quickly to the Maine effort with limited overall involvement in other activities across the country – all factors that led to the conclusion that most of its contributions were intended for the Maine referendum effort rather than general programs.

1. HRC's Organization, Revenues and Fundraising

Founded in 1980, HRC is a 501(c)(4) organization that serves as America's largest civil rights organization working to achieve lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender equality. In 2009, HRC reported total revenues of $29,750,955 and total program expenditures of $19,596,877.¹ With hundreds of thousands of members and supporters, including mostly small donors, HRC's average donation in 2009 was $40.42. HRC's revenues come from a diverse set of consistent funding streams throughout the year, including a national street canvass program, dozens of gala dinners and community events across the country, merchandise sales and corporate sponsorships. Fundraising from year to year follows a similar calendar and structure, regardless of national or local developments. Contributions from "major donors" (i.e., donors who gave HRC more than $5,000) comprise a relatively small portion of HRC's revenue (approximately 17% in 2009). This stands in sharp contrast to NOM, which, as the Commission noted, raised more than 75% of its contributions from 2007 to 2011 from a few major donors.

HRC typically informs members of HRC's wide-ranging work in a number of ways, including newsletters, e-mails, a quarterly magazine, direct mail and through our website. As a general matter, HRC avoids soliciting restricted general treasury contributions for particular federal or state advocacy efforts. In the case of state or local ballot measures, HRC has been careful to establish political action committees or ballot committees early on in campaigns where and when required. In 2008, HRC established a ballot measure committee in California to raise funds to oppose Proposition 8. In 2009 and again in 2012, HRC established Maine ballot measure PACs. In 2012, HRC also established and solicited for ballot measure PACs in Maryland, Minnesota and Washington. Additionally, HRC established an innovative national ballot measure PAC that was registered in each of the four states in 2012 in order to be able to solicit general contributions for our combined 2012 ballot measure efforts. Prior to establishing this PAC, HRC proactively contacted each of the four state agencies, including the Commission, to confirm the permissibility of this arrangement and to ensure proper donor disclosure.² During this four-year span, HRC disclosed thousands of donors on dozens of reports filed with state agencies.

¹ HRC's 2009 financial figures are for fiscal year 2010 (April 1, 2009- March 31, 2010), which covers the time period of the 2009 Maine referendum campaign.

² On March 21, 2012, HRC reached out proactively via our national campaign finance counsel Allen Mattison to Paul Lavin, Assistant Director of the Commission. In his reply on March 27, 2012, Mr. Lavin stated: "Thanks for laying out so clearly the approach your client wants to take with respect to reporting its campaign financial activities in Maine. We also appreciate your client's willingness to provide meaningful disclosure to the public."

2. HRC's Role in the 2009 Referendum Campaign

While HRC certainly considered the Maine referendum to be an important concern in 2009, HRC's role was one of partnership with state and local groups rather than direct leadership. Unlike NOM, HRC did not have a formal leadership role in the campaign or sit on a campaign executive committee.

As a large, multi-faceted grassroots organization, HRC's work in 2009 was devoted to a wide variety of different program areas. Our federal advocacy program won a signal achievement in helping to pass the Matthew Shepard Hate Crimes Prevention Act. In the summer of 2009, HRC's field department coordinated a national grassroots program called "No Excuses" to encourage our members and supporters to contact and meet with their representatives. HRC also devoted considerable resources to moving the Employment Non-Discrimination Act and other pro-LGBT legislation forward in Congress and on the state level.

Given HRC's diverse program activities across the country, our investment in Maine represented a relatively modest commitment and a minimal portion of our overall expenditures. In fact, a comparison here with NOM is striking. While HRC was one of No on 1's largest donors, HRC's $170,400 in monetary contributions represented just 0.87% of our total program expenses in 2009 and less than 4% of overall No on 1 campaign revenues.³ In contrast, NOM's donations of more than $2 million constituted 32% of NOM's expenses for program services that year and 64% of the total amount spent by Stand for Marriage Maine, the PAC supporting Question 1.

III. Unlike NOM, HRC Made a Commitment to Legal Compliance and Disclosure in Maine by Properly Disclosing Its Donors.

HRC takes its commitment to legal compliance and disclosure very seriously. When we initiated our Maine referendum efforts, we made all reasonable efforts to comply with the law. In 2009, HRC had a full time in-house attorney with significant expertise in campaign finance and legal compliance. Even with this expertise, we retained local counsel in Maine and engaged in regular conversations with Commission staff. Our goal throughout, as in other states both before and after 2009, was to disclose those contributors who supported HRC's Maine referendum efforts in accordance with the law.

While NOM "intentionally set up its fundraising strategy to avoid donor disclosure laws under a theory of not designating contributions," HRC's strategy in coordinating its ballot measure efforts was always designed to comply with the spirit and letter of the law. Hence, HRC set up a PAC and filed reports with the Commission as required. HRC solicited donors to contribute directly to the PAC to support our Maine efforts, in stark contrast to NOM's failure to establish a PAC and its concerted efforts to avoid Maine disclosure requirements. HRC voluntarily reported tens of thousands of dollars of contributions and hundreds of individual donors as it has done in ballot measure campaigns nationwide. While NOM was promising anonymity to its donors, HRC ³ HRC contributed an additional $135,000 in in-kind contributions of staff time, consultants and phone banks. However, even when combining monetary and in-kind contributions, HRC's investment constituted 1.56% of our total FY 2010 program expenses and less than 3% of total campaign revenues including in-kind contributions.

Maine Ethics Commission

expressly solicited donors to contribute to our Maine PAC and informed them that their contributions would be disclosed according to the law.

Commission staff recognized in its reply that "NOM fails to point out that five of the six named organizations [including HRC] had registered with the Commission as either a ballot question committee or political action committee in 2009. These organizations, unlike NOM, disclosed some of their contributors and affirmatively described the remaining assets spent for political purposes as general treasury funds." HRC concurs with the staff's assessment.

For the reasons stated above, we ask the Commission to deny NOM's request for an investigation. Please feel free to contact me at (202) 572-8914 or darrin.hurwitz@hrc.org if you have any further questions.

Sincerely,

Darrin Hurwitz

Dear Mr. Hurwitz,

Thank you for your July 14, 2014 response to the request for an investigation. In order to further assist the Commission in deciding whether to conduct any investigation concerning the 2009 financial activities of the Human Rights Campaign (HRC), please provide the following information as soon as possible:

- (1) Please provide the total amount of donations received in response to the two fundraising emails from HRC's president referencing a matching gift by HRC board member Bruce Bastian [these are the first two emails in Exhibit A to NOM's request for an investigation], and the total amount of matching funds provided by Mr. Bastian.
- (2) If HRC contends that the donations and matching gift referred to in question (1) were not "contributions" as defined by 21-A M.R.S.A. § 1056-B(2-A)(B) and (C), please explain why.

The Commission staff is hopeful that this matter will be ready for consideration by the Commissioners at the July 31, 2014 meeting, but it may be necessary to postpone it until the Commission's meeting in August.

Sincerely,

Jonathan Wayne

Dear Mr. Wayne:

On behalf of the Human Rights Campaign (HRC), I write in response to your letter dated July 24, 2014 soliciting additional information relating to the request for investigation made by the National Organization for Marriage (NOM). We ask that you continue to reference our letter dated July 14, 2014 that explains our position why an investigation would be untimely and unwarranted.

We offer the following responses to further assist you in considering NOM's request, noting again the caveat that any factual statements are based on our best recollection of activities that occurred nearly five years ago.

- We regret that we are unable to provide the donation figures that you request relating to the two general fundraising e-mails identified in your letter. Since 2009, HRC has transitioned to a new technical e-mail fundraising platform. As a result, we do not currently have access to the information that you request relating to individual donations that were made in response to specific 2009 e-mails. We emphasize that the timing of NOM's request – nearly five years after any particular allegations occurred – makes it difficult if not impossible to reconstruct circumstances or provide specific information relevant to NOM's allegations.
- Bruce Bastian made significant donations to HRC in 2009 and in prior and subsequent years. Mr. Bastian and other major donors have on occasion permitted their names to be used to solicit matching donations. However, their gifts are pre-committed and are not directly tied to the amount of donations received in response to a particular solicitation. Nor do the donors have any specific role in determining how the funds received in connection with the match are used. In 2009, Mr. Bastian made donations in excess of the amount referenced in the fundraising e-mail prior to the date of the e-mail. He made regular subsequent donations throughout the year. To the best of our knowledge, we never communicated with Mr. Bastian regarding the content of these fundraising e-mails. As we explained in our previous letter, we are confident that no major donors were communicated with in any way that would have suggested that their general fund contributions would be designated for the Maine campaign.

- As we have previously stated, when HRC solicited contributions expressly for the Maine referendum we registered a PAC, disclosed donors who intended their contributions to support the referendum efforts and made a good faith effort throughout the campaign to comply with the letter and spirit of the law. We do not believe that donors responding to the e-mail solicitations you identify would “believe that the funds would be used specifically for the purpose of initiating or influencing a campaign,” 21-A M.R.S.A. § 1056-B(2-A)(B) or “when viewed in the context of the contribution and the recipient’s activities regarding a campaign,” 21-A M.R.S.A. § 1056-B(2-A)(C), would have intended their donations to support the Maine effort in May 2009 when HRC had no formal leadership role in the Maine campaign and when HRC was engaged primarily in other work across the country. We believe that donors would have reasonably believed that their contributions would support HRC’s national efforts and would not be restricted for any particular purpose.
- Ultimately, we do not believe the Commission has to reach the substantive legal question it raises in its letter or make any precedential determinations. As we have stated, NOM had the opportunity to raise its concerns about uneven treatment in 2009, when the alleged activities occurred. There are numerous prudential reasons for the Commission not to entertain a retaliatory call for an investigation nearly five years after the alleged activities occurred and a year after the statutory recordkeeping requirements expired. See 21-A M.R.S.A. § 1057. Moreover, as we have explained, there are ample ways to distinguish between the 2009 activities of NOM, which flagrantly violated the law and disclosed no donors, and HRC, which made reasonable efforts to comply with the law, registered a PAC with the Commission and disclosed hundreds of donors and contributions.

We hope this information assists you with your inquiry. Please feel free to contact me at (202) 572-8914 or darrin.hurwitz@hrc.org if you have any further questions.

Sincerely,

Darrin Hurwitz
Deputy General Counsel
